U. S. TO ACCEPT BRITAIN'S CUT OF 10 PER CENT

Washington, June 14.—Carefully istinguishing between receiving nd accepting Great Britain's roffered partial war debt paynent, President Roosevelt is exected to take the sum offered ith a distinct understanding that uch action will not invalidate merica's claim to the unpaid reainder.

This authoritative word came uesday about the time that resident Roosevelt, his close adisors gathered around him in priate conclave, prepared to reply a formal British note received the state department late in e day.

Whatever the British government pays—and reports from Lonon placed the sum at 10 per cent the $75,950,000 due Thursday -President Roosevelt is deterined it shall be regarded only installment on the installment.

These developments followed a y in which the delicate debt bject was vigorously raised in e world economic conference d the senate heard an outburst ainst developments in the debt ld.

Senator Lewis (Dem.), Illinois, d Robinson (Rep.), Indiana, dermined opponents of cancellaon or reduction, demanded that e American delegation walk out other delegates insisted on inging up the debt, which, at merica's insistence, were omitd from the agenda.

The London government's note llowed protracted informal dissions between the two nations which it was understood that s contents were thoroughly gone er.

It was delivered at the state partment late in the day and on afterward Ambassador Rosso Italy called with a memoranm suggesting that this country so make only a partial payment its installment of $13,545,000.

Miss Ida Hall, daughter of Ausn Hall, living about two miles rthwest of McKinney, attended e fiftieth wedding anniversary her uncle and aunt Sunday, ne 11, at Wichita Falls. These od people are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. (Lee) Hunn. Her uncle is brother of her mother, who died out two years ago, and also a other of her uncle, Capt. F. M. unn, who died two or three onths ago here in McKinney.

A number of out-of-town peoe and relatives attended the neral in McKinney Tuesday afrnoon at 4 o'clock of the late rs. J. T. Bell, who died the preous day of paralysis. Among e relatives who attended, bedes the children and grandchilren; were Mrs. C. E. Wallace of amford, Texas; Mrs. Arnold rost of Dallas, Mrs. George mith of Seymour, Texas; Mr. d Mrs. Walter Gray, Seymour, exas; Mr and Mrs. J. C. Gowan Seymour, Texas, and the later couple's two children, Dorothy d Jack. Walter Gray, a nephew the deceased, is the owner and erator of a funeral home at ymour. He is a grandson of e late Judge J. W. Gray of Mcnney, who was buried Decemr 20, 1915.

RECORD ACTIVITY UNITED STATES COTTON MILLS

Domestic cotton mill activity now is at the highest level in several years and compares favorably with the all-time record high levels established in the late winter of 1926-27, says the New York Cotton Exchange service. With very large orders for goods on hand and stock at mills very low, mill activity is expected to continue very high through the summer.

"World consumption now is expected to be around 13,800,000 to 14,000,000 bales of American cotton this season, compared with 12,506,000 last season, 11,113,000 two seasons ago and 13,021,000 three seasons ago" says the exchange service "while consumption of foreign growths will be 10,800,000 to 10,900,000 bales, against 9,658,000 last season, 11,881,000 three seasons ago."

RITZ THEATER 'DRESSES UP' FOR SUMMER

Visitors to the Ritz theater in this city have their attention attracted to the pretty new front of that popular McKinney playhouse. The improvements were made by Marshall Padgitt Jr. and W. E. Bonham Jr., employes of that theater. The front gives an appearance of a decidedly wintry scene with the color of white, resembling snow, predominating.

To each side, in a little cove, can be seen a polar bear, Eskimo igloo and other symbols of the winter season. A space is reserved in the midst of this scene for an advertisement of the picture being shown on the screen. The purpose of this decoration scheme is not only to present a neat appearance, but also to convey the impression it is "cool as a cave" inside. The theater uses the washed air cooling system, making it ideally comfortable at all shows.

Manager Roy L. Brockman says that he is bringing some unusually good films here this summer and urges all theater patrons to keep on the lookout for them.

INDUSTRY BILL PASSES SENATE BY 46-39 VOTE

Beating down a triple threat opposition, senate administration forces in Washington Tuesday put the final stamp of congressional approval upon the industrial revival bill and sent that kingpin of President Roosevelt's plan on its way to the White House.

The vote was comparatively close, 46 to 39, but it was enough to overcome a combination of independent Republicans and regulars from both parties, despite that their favorite amendments had been greatly changed in conference without any help from the senate conferees. The senate passed the bill originally by 57 to 24.

Taking the floor just before the seven-vote victory margin was announced by Vice President Garner, Chairman Harrison of the finance committee and head of the senate conferees, defended the bill against an all-day onslaught. He asserted the conferees "tried to carry out in good faith the wishes of the senate."

LaFollette (Rep.), Wisconsin, Borah (Rep.), Idaho, Norris (Rep.), Nebraska, and Clark (Dem.), Missouri, had led the opposition with assertions the senate conferees were prejudiced and made no real effort to retain amendments for full publicity of income tax returns, prohibitions against price-fixing and combinations in restraint of trade, and removal of tax exemptions from government securities.

Many Attending Christian Church State Convention

Several members of the First Christian church of this city are attending the annual state meeting of Christian churches in Fort Worth. The convention opened Tuesday to continue through Thursday. The meeting is being held at Texas Christian university and also at University Christian church.

Among those from McKinney who are attending the sessions are Dr. Clifford S. Weaver, pastor of the First Christian church here; Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. J. D. Bass, Mrs. Harvey Abernathy, Mr. and Mrs. Ula Saunders, Mrs. Walter Bush, Mrs. S. O. Scott, [illegible]

PERCH, FROZEN IN BLOCK OF ICE, IS ON DISPLAY HERE

Frozen in a 200-pound block of ice, a fine perch, caught at Lake Dallas this week and weighing 2 1-4 pounds, is on display in the Smith Drug company window. The prize perch, one of the largest seen here this year, was caught by Benjamin Smith, one of the city's best-known anglers, using a small willow pole to hook it.

The fish was caught Monday while Mr. Smith and Fitzhugh Newsome were out angling for the finny tribe. It was said by friends that Mr. Newsome caught the limit of a new variety of fish, called "Tips," although they are not on display, having been thrown back in the water to 'fool' other anglers.

Roy Kirkpatrick, one of North Texas' best-known fishermen, said Wednesday that Mr. Smith was one of his pupils and that as a teacher he (Mr. Kirkpatrick) is a tip-topper. "Perhaps that is where the variety of fish, called 'Tips' originates," he said.

The fish, frozen in a solid block of ice, is attracting considerable interest from passers-by at the Smith Drug store. It is a splendid exhibit and will likely be intact in the ice block for two or three days, or until the ice has melted. The perch is one of the largest to be brought out of Lake Dallas by local anglers this season.

GRADY CHANDLER IS DISQUALIFIED AS RECEIVER

C. F. Gibson, Austin attorney, has been appointed receiver of the Security Trust company of Austin.

He succeeded H. Grady Chandler, law professor in the University of Texas, who has resigned to enter a law practice in East Texas. Mr. Chandler was named 10 days ago when the institution was placed in receivership. His appointment and that of his successor, Judge Gibson, were made by Dist. Judge W. F. Robertson.

Judge Robertson expressed doubt Chandler was eligible to be receiver for the bank, in as much as he was a creditor of it. Chandler then tendered his resignation. He will be associated in the law firm of Ramey, Calhoun and Marsh in Tyler.

The bank was placed in receivership on motion of Atty. Gen. James V. Allred, at the request of Banking Commr. James Shaw, its officers and directors concurring in the request.—Austin American, June 11.

The above news item concerning the resignation of Hon. H. Grady Chandler as receiver for the trust company, is of special interest to his host of Collin county friends here where he served four years as county attorney before going to Austin as Assistant Attorney General of Texas. Mr. Chandler later resigned to become a professor in the Law Department of the State University. He has now made a very desirable connection with a law firm in Tyler to which city he will move his family within the next few days. Mr. Chandler is an excellent lawyer and a high class, Christian gentleman who will make good anywhere he goes. We are sorry that he and his good wife are not going to move back to their old home here at McKinney, but we congratulate Tyler on acquiring their citizenship. No better people in the state than this worthy couple.

Grover Hight, who holds a responsible position with the Sherman Democrat, was in McKinney today visiting relatives and looking after some residence property interests that he still owns here. Grover was reared in McKinney and learned the printer's trade in this office. He is an expert linotype machinist and a man of strict integrity and worthy character.

JAYCEES WILL NAME OFFICERS SEMI-ANNUALLY

Some important changes in their by-laws were made by the McKinney Junior Chamber of Commerce members at their semi-monthly meeting held here Tuesday night, June 13. Lovejoy Comegys read the proposed changes, which would change the election of officers and directors from an annual event to a semi-annual affair. These officers will be elected at the second meeting in June and December of each year, being elected for a term of six months. In accordance with these changes, which carried unanimously, it was decided to hold the next election of officers Tuesday, June 27. A nominating committee was named by President W. P. Abernathy as follows: Jack McCullough, chairman; Byron England, Wilkins Comegys, Jack Warden and Vernon Walker.

Accept Challenge.

Another important subject discussed at their Tuesday night meeting of the Jaycees was the formation of a baseball team, the organization accepting the challenge recently hurled by the Lions' club for a game or a series of baseball games. President Abernathy appointed Homer W. Wilson as manager and Malcolm Walters as assistant manager. A soft, indoor ball will be used in these games. The first contest will likely be played one of the first three days of next week, the exact time and place to be decided later. It is possible that a four-team league will be formed in this city soon.

The Jaycees also discussed the sale of tickets over the Junior Chamber of Commerce special to the Chicago Century of Progress exposition. Six reservations have already been sold with as many more likely to be sold in the next day for two from McKinney and other points over the county. Roy Largent, head scout for the Chicago White Sox, says he will give free tickets to those going on the special for either of the White Sox games next week—with the Yankees of New York or the Washington Senators. Lovejoy Comegys of the Central State bank is chairman of the ticket selling committee and can tell anyone interested all they wish to know about the subject.

Stenciling Streets.

The organization also voted to affiliate with the National Chamber of Commerce organization, the charter to be given at the next convention to be held this month. The local members of the organization hope that Howard Hayden of Dallas, national vice president, will be elevated to the presidency. If he is elected it means that the organization's headquarters will be moved to Dallas next year, which will be a great advantage to McKinney Jaycees.

The movement to stencil names and block numbers on all intersections of the city was also discussed. This movement is being sponsored by the Jaycees. The white background has already been painted and stenciling will be completed this week. The City Commission provided the materials and the R. F. C. will furnish the labor, with the Jaycees as supervisors.

Obeys Natural Impulse; Saves Livestock From Burning Barn

Aurel Belden, active member of the McKinney Volunteer Fire department and a livewire citizen anyway you take him, has what might be properly called "the fireman's instinct." In other words when something starts burning that shouldn't, Aurel gets busy and does a lost of rescuing of various kinds in no time at all.

This was demonstrated late Tuesday night while Mr. Belden was returning from Denison, where he had accompanied his mother, Mrs. J. O. Belden, to visit her brother-in-law, P. H. Parsons, who is seriously ill. Others in the party were his sister, Mrs. Tom Hammond and son, Robert, of Abilene. Just after they passed Van Alstyne on the way home, at about 11 o'clock, he perceived what his practiced eye told him was a blaze of some sort. He hurried forward and on arriving at the scene found a large barn on fire.

Mr. Belden hurried to the house, awoke the sleeping owner, a Mr. Jackson, and family, and asked him if there was anything of value in the blazing barn. Mr. Jackson told him all of his live stock and feed was in the barn. The McKinney fireman then sallied forth, opened gates, doors and chutes and soon had brought out of the blazing building nineteen big hogs, two cows, two calves, several horses and mules. The barn burned down completely, being too far away from Van Alstyne [illegible]

LEE HUNN AND WIFE MARRIED 50 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hunn of Wichita Falls celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, Sunday, June 11, at their home in Wichita Falls. They were married in McKinney, June 11, 1883. The groom, J. A. L. (Lee) Hunn, is the only surviving son of Dr. Tony Hunn, a pioneer McKinney physician who came here at an early day from Missouri and practiced medicine for several years. He was the father of Capt. Frank M. Hunn who died in McKinney two or three months ago and of Mrs. W. A. (Austin) Hall who lived two miles northwest of McKinney and who died about two years ago. Mrs. Lee Hunn was formerly Miss May Tucker, daughter of William Tucker, a pioneer settler of the Vineland community about six miles northwest of McKinney. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hunn moved away from McKinney many years ago. After residing several years at Sanger, they moved to their present home at Wichita Falls. We reproduce the following news item about their Golden wedding anniversary, which appeared in the Wichita Falls Daily Times Sunday morning, June 11:

Golden Wedding Day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. L. Hunn who have lived in Wichita county for 30 years, are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at their home north of this city. They were married in McKinney in the year of 1883. Mr. Hunn was born in Buttler, Mo., in the year of 1853 and his parents came to Texas when he was a small boy and his father was a practicing physician in McKinney for many years.

Mrs. Hunn, whose name was formerly Miss May Hucker, was born in 1862 in Collin county, Texas, where her grandfather was one of the first settlers. He was also from Missouri and built the first frame house in that part of Texas.

Simplicity will mark the celebration at their home today and approximately 100 invitations have been sent to relatives in many states. Dinner will be served at 1 o'clock and a color scheme of white and gold will be carried out with talisman roses, shast daises and marigolds. The day will be spent informally.

Those invited include Mrs. A. T. Neal of Leach, Okla., Mrs. George A. Lennon of Long Beach, Calif., Messrs. and Mesdames V. W. Hunn of New Mexico, C. C. Hunn and family, L. A. Hunn and family, R. L. Hunn and family, C. A. Reed and family, C. L. Hunn and family, and Miss Fay Hunn, all of Wichita Falls; G. T. Cotham and family of Olney, Mrs. O. M. Tucker and Messrs. and Mesdames Ida D. Griffin and family, H. T. Tucker and family, J. D. Worsham of Des Moines, A. C. Worsham of Denison, D. B. DeMar of Jacksonville, Fla., Ivan N. Kruse and family of Peterson, Iowa, L. F. DeMar of Pilot Point, J. D. Douglass and family of Dallas, Lorne Beenford of Darlington, Ind., T. V. Wallace and family of Amarillo, Miss Ida Hall of McKinney, Mr. V. W. Tucker of Oklahoma City, C. H. Tucker of Omaha, Neb., Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Moore of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Eva Fisher of Wichita, Kan., Ralph Hunn of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Odham of Wichita Falls.

'No Parking' Signs Stenciled Around Square

"No parking" signs have been stenciled around the public square in McKinney this week. The background is white, with black letters. This is the first step in the stenciling of street numbers and blocks on both sides of every intersection in the city. The idea was first conceived by the McKinney Junior Chamber of Commerce, who are co-operating with the City Commission and R. F. C. in the work.

Mayor Joe E. Largent, on behalf of the City Commission and local officials, asks the co-operation of the entire citizenship of McKinney and others in obeying this "No Parking" ordinance and thereby help the parking problem here.

Hon. J. Dud Cottrell of Plano former member of the legislature had business in our courts Wednesday. Mr. Cottrell is a prominent lawyer of his city. He is a from Collin county.

County Superintendent L. Dow Hendricks and his assistant, Malcolm Walters, announce that they have received applications for high school tuition from eighty districts in the county and are sending them off to Austin this week. The state will pay the tuition of all students who have completed the work in their particular school and who enter some other high school over the county for advanced work. [illegible]

H. H. NEILSON SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS PICNIC

Members of the Horace H. Neilson Men's Sunday School class of the First Methodist church with their wives and sweethearts will hold a barbecue and swimming party at the home of Eros Brown, one of the favorite picnic spots of the county, just north of Allen Thursday night beginning at 7 o'clock.

R. E. (Bob) Gordon, president of the class, will be in charge of the entertainment.

Every one of the fifty or more members of the class are urged to keep in mind the time and place of this outing. If you have no car, transportation will be furnished.

Any one desiring to swim in the excellent pool at the Brown home may do so.

NATURE FREAKS IN ROASTING EAR CORN

Leonard Howard, a highly-esteeme dold McKinney citizen who makes his home with his son, A. S. Howard, and wife, 207 East Lamar street, showed us some freak Jumbo Bantam Sweet corn roasting ears. Eight little ears of this choice roasting ear corn were enclosed in one shuck or in the shuck on which normally matured grains of corn were growing instead of adhering in the usual way to a cob enclosed in a shuck. The grains on the eight small ears contained in the one shuck were all normally matured and not mere "blisters." Mr. Howard stated that his son and daughter-in-law had sixteen rows, seventy feet long, in their garden from which they had just canned six bushels of this prime favorite roasting ear corn.

Mrs. Howard is an expert cook and is also highly skilled in the art of canning fruits, vegetables and meats. This editor pays this compliment to her advisedly after having sampled her cooking on more than one occasion and we also pronounce her a champion cake maker, too. She and her husband, who is a traveling auctioneer, have lived in McKinney for several years, here, where they have acquired some choice residence and rental properties. Their old father has been making his home with them for several years. All choice people. We would like to see more of their kind move to McKinney—we need all we can get of their kind of citizenship.

A. W. Richards, wife and daughter, Miss Leona, who live on their farm near Allen, were McKinney visitors Tuesday afternoon. This editor was glad to renew acquaintances with them. Mr. and Mrs. Richards have seven children, six of whom are married and established in homes of their own. Mrs. Richards was formerly Miss Docia Liggett, whose dear old mother, Mrs. Nancy Jane Liggett, a sister of Sterling P. Coffey of this city, lives at Bellevue. Mrs. Liggett will be 82 years old on June 22, this year. She is one of the big family of children of Salathial Coffey, an honored Collin county pioneer, who settled near Allen and was the progenitor of one of Collin's most noted pioneer families. His descendants annually hold largely attended family reunions in Finch park at McKinney every summer. Mrs. Liggett and Sterling P. Coffey are the only surviving children of this Collin pioneer of revered memory.

County Farm Agent Jack McCullough has received several reports from over the city of the presence of the bagworm in cedar and arbor vitae trees and shrubs, here. This pest seems to be fairly prevalent over the city, greatly damaging the above-mentioned trees. Answering requests for a method to destroy this pest, Agent McCullough suggests that owners of these trees spray or dust them with arsenate of lead. This is said to be very effective, some owners also mixing it with lime. Quite a few persons in McKinney have already successfully used this poison on their evergreens.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Eldridge and little daughter, Mary Beth, entertained with a family dining at their home on College street Sunday. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Tom J. Hall and daughter, Miss Beulah, of Wylie; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Eldridge and Mrs. Hubert Eldridge of Murphy. Mr. and Mrs. Hall are the parents of Mrs. Nathan Eldridge, while Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Eldridge are the parents of Nathan. On this occasion the dining was in honor of Mesdames Hall and W. J. Eldridge, who celebrated their birthdays during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Waide of Fort Worth spent Sunday in this city with Mr. and Mrs. John G. Brooks and family. [illegible]

BRITAIN MAKES OFFER TEN CENTS ON DOLLAR TO PAY ITS WAR DEBTS

Chamberlain Tells Commons No Reason It Will Not Be Accepted; Hull Absents Self From Conference.

Geological Museum, London, June 14.—Studiously avoiding all mention of the controversial foreign debts, Secretary of State Hull unfolded America's economic policies before the world economic conference this afternoon with a warning that any nation responsible for its failure "will meet the execration of mankind."

His address was a stinging blow at the nationalistic tendencies which already have threatened the success of the world economic conference at London.

* * *

London, June 14.—Great Britain has sent to Washington a proposal for settlement of the June 15 debt installment which it believes acceptable to President Roosevelt, Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told the house of commons Tuesday night, arousing hope that the issue which has acutely disturbed the world economic conference soon would be amicably adjusted.

Declaring that a full statement would be submitted Wednesday night after the expected favorable reply from President Roosevelt, Mr. Chamberlain said he was not in a position to disclose at present the terms of the proposals.

In well-informed quarters, however, it was asserted that the proposed basis of settlement was by payment of 10 per cent, with the understanding, insisted on by President Roosevelt that this ratio should not constitute a precedent for a final settlement of the whole problem.

A British note offering a partial payment of the $79,950,000 war debt installment due Thursday was submitted to the state deparment at Washington Tuesday. An informal proposal somewhat to the same effect on the part of Italy also was presented.

"There has been a lengthy exchange of views between the British government and the United States government," Mr. Chamberlain told an acutely interested house, "and as a result the British ambassador at Washington has handed to the state department a note setting forth the British proposals concerning the June installment.

"We expect to receive the president's reply tomorrow.

"We have no reason to suppose that it will be other than satisfactory to us but as it has not yet reached us I am not in a position to state its terms."

Patching up of the Anglo-American debt issue was regarded in American delegation quarters Tuesday night as of extreme importance for the success of the conference and American contribution to it.

Hull Fails to Appear.

Cordell Hull, secretary of state, who excited astonishment and anxiety by failing to appear at the plenary session Tuesday where he was scheduled to be the first speaker, expected at night to make his opening declaration of American policy to the conference Wednesday. It was believed his central subject will be tariff reduction.

The apparent formation of European blocs designed to force the United States to settle the war debts problem immediately and to stabilize the dollar price before other questions were taken up by the conference caused some concern among the American delegates.

France was seen as the leader of the group which desires to induce the United States to hasten currency stabilization, while Great Britain appeared to be principally interested in bringing about an adjust ment of the debt matter.

Allusions to going home as result of the unexpected nature of the opening speeches were heard around American headquarters and members of some other national groups feared that the absence of Secretary Hull or most of his colleagues from the morning and afternoon discussions might have an unhappy significance.

It was made clear by American authorities, however, that there was no question of quitting the conference and that their empty chairs in the assembly hall were not intended as a warning gesture.

ENJOYING CAMP LIFE AT LAKE WORTH

A. Hardy Eubanks spent the last week-end with his wife and children, Billie, Kenneth, Fred and Ted, who are all enjoying a vacation in a camp on Lake Worth, near Fort Worth, while their home, 505 West Lamar, is undergoing some extensive improvements.

J. E. Michael is contractor in charge of the improvements under way and Jim Webb Harrison is doing the painting. This pretty cobblestone front nine or ten-room residence is being replastered throughout. The plastered ceilings are being replaced with Upson board ceiling. The hardwood floors are being reworked and a practically new shingle roof was necessary after the old roof had been so badly damaged by the severe hailstorm that visited McKinney Sunday night about three weeks ago. The same hailstorm also very badly damaged the shade trees in the yard of Mr. Eubanks' home, necessitating cutting down of several of the nicest ones.

Mrs. Eubanks and the children are greatly enjoying themselves in their summer camp on Lake Worth. Roy Caldwell Jr., a pal of Billy, is a guest of the latter and adding to the pleasures of the Eubanks children on this delightful outing, while the Eubanks home is undergoing these extensive improvements. Fred and Ted, the youngest children of the Eubanks clan, are eight-year-old twins. The other two sons, A. H. Jr. and Leon, of this interesting family of six Eubanks sons, are not with their mother and younger brothers at Lake Worth. A. H. Jr., who is assistant cashier of the Security State bank of Blue Ridge, of which his father is president, lately returned from a three weeks' vacation spent in Florida. Leon, the second son, a McKinney high school mid-term graduate this year, is a student in the North Texas State Teach- [illegible]

EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

Collin grain crop is short this year, due to severe February freezes. Harvest is on now, and it will not be long until the hum of the thresher may be heard on the farms of the county.

When you go over Collin county now you are bound to admit that this is the place Adam and Eva met and courted. We don't mean, maybe. This is really the place. Better not deny it, George.

"To sell drink for a livelihood is bad enough, but for a whole community to share the responsibility and guilt of such a traffic seems a worst bargain than that of Eve or Judas."—Horace Greeley.

We advise you, we urge you, we invite you, to vote against beer when the issue comes up on August 26. Even if beer is voted back in Texas and we are sure it will not be, we will do our best to run every beer dispenser out of the state. How does that sound? Plain enough?

Yes, good roads cost money, but they are worth it. Bad roads are not merely an inconvenience to the general public, but they also mean a loss to all business in the community—including the farmers. Bad roads cost more than good roads.

Farm prices have risen faster in the last ninety days than have done before since the end of the World War. This has been notably true since April 15. The last upswing to compare with it was in April, 1919, after the Federal government relaxed wartime milling regulations.

T. L. Hughston, formerly of Plano, but now of Crowell, Foard county, was recently elected president of the Texas State Grain Dealers Association. At one time he was Master of the Plano Masonic lodge, he being one of the six Hughstons still living who have served as Worshipful Masters of Plano lodge in which Grand Master Wallace Hughston of McKinney still holds membership.

According to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Department of Agriculture, at Washington, farm work stock, both horses and mules, are leading the trek levels of prosperous days on the farm in the United States. From April 15 to May 15, according to this authority the average farm price for horses went from 67 to 71 dollars per head while mules mounted from $73 to $77 average each.

We are for our school boys and girls one hundred per cent. They are the country's important asset. We can't afford to neglect anything that will benefit them, educationally, morally or in a material way in the years to come when they become mature men and women. We should not think about bartering their possible future integrity and sobriety for paltry dollars collected in the form of beer tax or license collection on any kind of alcoholic drink. Cast your ballot on August 26 and be careful how you vote.

Increased manufacturing in Texas means increased consumption of our farm products and lower prices for merchandise to the ultimate consumer. Although Texas cannot supply her own living, she can supply a great part of it due to the fact that there are more natural resources in the state than in any other. With a larger amount of manufacturing going on in the state, Texas farmers would have first call for their products since transportation costs would be less. Let's give Texas more industries. McKinney is willing and an eager candidate for some of them.

Henry Ford says that business is improving slowly, but steadily and that the best asset in the near future will be old fashioned common sense and work. Returned buying power for the laboring man is the thing necessary to restore prosperity so he thinks. There are at present 35,000 men employed in the Detroit manufacturing units of the Ford company turning out about 2,500 units a day. Ford is now an admirer of Roosevelt whom he did not support for the presidency, preferring Hoover.

The Denison Press is a well edited weekly newspaper, coming to our exchange desk. It is owned and edited by Anderson & Son, printers. Its senior proprietor is Leroy Anderson, who is also a Christian minister and pastor of several North Texas churches—perhaps two of them in this county. He is a son-in-law of Mrs. T. H. Emerson of this city. His fine young sons assist him in the business. He is an excellent writer. The Press is also well patronized from an advertising standpoint.

Constructive developments have already taken place under the new deal declares President R. L. Thornton of one of the biggest banks of the state and also president of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce. Commodity prices and business are steadily improving on a sound basis. He urges Chambers of Commerce to gird themselves with greater loyalty and [illegible] "Let's get together and do our part towards taking [illegible] of our great possibilities," he says. Mr. [illegible] several Collin county banks.

Many evils have come out of the depression but the worst perhaps, are the dole, and disregard for debt obligation. It will take a generation for the people to recover their self-reliance and a realization of responsibility.—Commerce Journal.

Denison has a new factory in the Patterson Manufacturing company. It expects to keep adding to its working force until about 200 employes are regularly given work. The Denison mattress factory has also recently increased its operatives to a total of 25 employes.

McKinney has a reputation of being a little city that does things. Its Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants Association, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the Lions Club and the various women clubs—literary and social, all are working to the same end—achievement for the happiness, contentment and best welfare of all the people who reside here.

It took a long time for the national law-makers to see that it was absolutely necessary to do something for farmers. The country has waked up throughly to the importance of a prosperous agriculture. Something tangible is now being done and must be kept up and reinforced by our Federal government to help farmers to at least a semblance of prosperity basis.

An animated sight is presented these nights to those driving along Elm street, the full frontage of the big McKinney cotton mill that is now working nearly 500 operatives on both day and night runs. The big mill building that covers several acres of ground, is built mainly of glass windows in order to obtain as much light as possible in daytime. At night, the building throughout from top to bottom is brilliantly lighted up with electricity. Its employes are busy as bees, operating its looms and other complicated machinery in manufacturing a variety of cloth products.

A $20,000,000 bond issue for state relief purposes has been submitted by the legislature for the voters of Texas to pass upon, August 26. It looks very much like the depression has been halted and better times are coming on, and there is less need for relief purposes each month that goes by. Texas is going to be very leery in saddling any more bond issues upon her taxpayers. However, the Legislature was justified in submitting the bond issue to meet the requirements of the Federal Government in order to continue to get benefits from the Refinance Corporation funds for the relief of the unemployed and for direct aid to the needy, who can't otherwise help themselves.

Former State Senator H. B. Brelsford died, May 18. He came to Texas in 1892 following his graduation from Notre Dame University and was born in Illinois, September 1, 1869. He served in the lower house of the Texas legislature in the Twenty-Eighth and Twenty-Ninth legislatures and was a state senator from 1913 to 1917. He had served several times as special associate justice of the Supreme Court of Texas and also on the court of civil appeals. He was a delegate to the National Democratic convention at Denver in 1908 and also at Houston in 1928. He was a presidential elector from Texas on the Roosevelt-Garner ticket in 1932.

United States Senator Tom Connally of Texas won his fight to have the Postoffice Department to use cotton twine instead of jute when Postmaster General Farley advised him that the suggestion had been adopted. Although, the cotton twine is slightly higher in price than the jute twine, it is of greater benefit to the Southern cotton growers since the post office department uses great quantities each year. The department has already made two purchases of the cotton twine totaling 47,000 pounds and will be in the market for a much larger order soon so Senator Connally has been advised. Senator Connally is a diligent worker for his state and the South.

Three times Congress has changed the salary of the President of the United States. By act of September 24, 1789, Washington received $25,000 for his first term or $6,250 per year. The act of March, 3, 1793, raised his salary to $25,000 a year. The act of March 3, 1873, increased it to $50,000. The last change was by act of March 4, 1909, when the amount was increased to $75,000 a year and $25,000 a year additional for traveling expenses. During the last year of his term, President Hoover, turned back into the United States treasury approximately, fifteen per cent of his monthly salary. President Franklin D. Roosevelt is doing the same thing.

Col. W. E. Talbot, for several years the chief exponent of the industrial possibilities of Texas, has been named chairman of an organization to be known as the Texas Development Bureau, a nonpolitical, nonprofit serving organization by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson in a sepecial proclamation. The Colonel has full power to appoint a board to assist him in trying to establish more industries in the state. In her proclamation, Governor Ferguson said: "With a population of over 6,000,000, and a potential trade territory of 12,000,000, opportunities for industrial development equal or exceed any other State. Texas is in a position today to lead the way to recovery." Col. Talbot although a strong Republican and once candidate for governor on that party ticket, is cordial with the Fergusons and was very grateful for the honor bestowed upon him.

COLT CULTURE.

Work mules and horses are already on the way back to normal prices. For several years they have been so cheap that raising them disgusted farmers and they quit the business. Consequently, most work animals on the farm now are old and need to be replaced with younger stock that are scarce and hard to find. More and better brood mares are needed. Many young colts are reappearing in the pastures around over the county.—McKinney Courier-Gazette.

The horse and its socially declassed kinsman, the mule, are as indispensable as the motor car or the motor plow. Paradoxical as it appears, the horse is valuable to the farmer for what it eats. The work stock on an unmotorized farm consume a fourth of the grain crop grown on that farm, averagingly speaking. On a strictly cotton farm the work stock eat up a fourth of the cotton, metaphorically speaking. This tends to keep down surplus and add to price. It is price, not surplus, that makes for agricultural prosperity. On top of the horse's value as a consumer is its value as a product. The man who raises and sells the horse is paid for his trouble. He is classed as an agriculturist and his profit redounds to the benefit of agriculture. In other words, horse power is manufactured on the farm while motor power is manufactured in a distant factory. A certain lady, well acquainted with this column, has a dear little colt at her house which she says she's going to name State Press. It is a lovely name and when the colt gets big enough to be hitched to a plow it will be the easiest thing in the world for the lady to say, "Giddap, S. P.!" And she can be sure the colt by any other name would be less docile and more disposed to run away with the plow and drag the lady [illegible]

M'KINNEY WOMAN "LISTENS IN" ON ECONOMIC MEET

Mrs. T. O. Murray, wife of Judge T. O. Murray of this city, 'listened in' on the opening of the World's Economic conference at London Monday and, in the following paragraphs, gives some of her impressions of the opening of that historical event:

McKinney, "listening in" Monday morning, heard King George V open the Economic Council in London. With 66 nations represented in the delegates present, and with their supporters listening in all over the world, the King could have said, "Listen world."

The interpreters on the London platform kept up a noisy background, but across the 3000 miles the King's message came clear. He reminded the delegates in his kingly way that because the progress of world thought had given this age many useful wonders, that same enlightened thought would bring a solution to this problem of world welfare.

Sir Ramsey McDonald's message followed. He told his listeners that the delegates would approach the problem of world welfare "as conquerors." Each delegate was a master-thinker in his own nation and together they could find the solution of the problem in hand. Sir Ramsey McDonald said, "What was good for one nation was good for all," reminding this McKinney listener of the old basic truth, "What blesses one, blesses all."

Both speakers reminded the delegates that their safety rested on their ability to keep within the specified bounds. The announcer on the London platform gave interesting items as he caught them. The Chinese delegate was young, a product of western civilization and a forceful character. The little five foot delegate from Austria looked courageous.

Of course, no announcer can gauge the action of that great unseen delegate—public opinion. But looking backward at the story of Waterloo, we find Victor Hugo saying "Napoleon was not defeated by Wellington but by the cry of the wretched." The cry of the wretched, world wide is the problem of this world conference today. And since desire is the purest form or prayer, the vast unseen audience, both righteous and unrighteous, is praying "Thy will be done."

Vital Statistics Report.

Births filed with the local registrar precinct one and McKinney for the month of May are as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McFarland, boy.
Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Ellis, girl.
Mr. and Mrs. Willie McDearmon, girl.
Mr. and Mrs. Alton Lafon, boy.
Mr. and Mrs. John T. Jones, boy.
Mr. and Mrs. Rex Manning, boy.
Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McEuen, boy.
Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stevens, boy.
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Murphy, boy.
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Waitt, girl.
Mr. and Mrs. Floyd B. Taylor, boy.
Mr. and Mrs. Bryan [illegible],
[illegible]
twins, one boy and one girl.
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Neely, girl.
Mr. and Mrs. Gillum E. Tallout, boy.
Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Angel, boy.
Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Angel, boy.
Mr. and Mrs. Dock Bigby, boy.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy R. Evans, boy.
Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hartline, boy.
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Taylor, boy.

Erwin C. Craus, justice peace, precinct one, is also registrar for McKinney and precinct one, therefore being the local registrar for the two divisions. In 1932 there were 97 births recorded in precinct 1 and 120 for McKinney, which showed a decline in the average. Mr. Craus reported in 1933—Jan. 25, Feb. 25, March 23 and April 24 and now for May 13 thus the great increase is only due the careful check being made by Mr. Craus and an assistant, Miss Mary Wiley McKinney. The total up to June the 1st is far more than double than last year, and is one of the reasons that the bureau of vital statistics of Austin, will get entry into the national bureau at Washington.

Mr. Craus wishes to thank every person that has responded to his letters and that has given him information to make such a careful check. Each doctor in McKinney and precinct one has given special care to help put the births on record, and Mr. Craus urges that each certificate of birth as well as death be reported in at least five days after the occurrence.

Special credit is due the local registrar in his duty, by him going to his own expense in order to help clear the records and proves his division will rank among the highest in the state. Many letters of credit have been received in regard to the check that has been made. Mr. Craus reports that he still has about fifty cases that have not been straightened out, and he hopes the bureau at Austin will extend a few weeks extra time. This check has been made at extra time as the duties of the Justice court had to continue as usual.

ICE CREAM SUPPER.

There will be an ice cream supper at Chambersville Friday night, June 16, for the benefit of the church. Everyone invited.

PRYOR HITCHCOCK SUCCUMBS HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

SON OF LATE J. H. HITCHCOCK BURIAL THIS AFTERNOON

After several years of failing health, P. P. (Pryor) Hitchcock, 37 years, 5 months and 17 days of age, died at his home, 705 Josephine street, at 11:20 o'clock Wednesday night, June 14. He was a son of the late J. H. Hitchcock, who was for many years engaged in the produce business in this city.

Surviving are his wife and several brothers and sisters.

The deceased was an overseas World war veteran.

Funeral services were held this (Thursday) afternoon at 4 o'clock at the North McKinney Baptist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. B. Bradshaw and by Dr. C. S. Weaver, pastor of the First Christian church. Interment followed in Pecan Grove cemetery, under direction of the Sam J. Massie & Son Funeral home.

PERKINS BROS. BELIEVES IN ADVERTISING

READ 4-PAGE AD IN TODAY'S BIG WEEKLY

Perkins Brothers company have four pages of wonderful bargains in today's Weekly Democrat-Gazette, to which we call our many readers' attention. It's a Harvest Sale and you will harvest many bargains by visiting this big dry goods store. W. C. Petitt, local manager, especially invites, not only the people in the country, but in the city, to come and share these splendid bargains as long as they last. The Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette office printed 9,000 four-page circulars for this big firm, making record time. We thank them.

C. L. McTee left today for a business trip to Chicago. While there, Mr. McTee will also attend the world's fair. H. L. Carter and Harris Davis, of Tyler, cousins of Mr. McTee, came by for him, all motoring through the country.

Louis "Tires" Daniels has been confined to his home with illness for several days.

Buck Nelson, born and reared here, who has been away from McKinney for some eight or ten years, dropped by to see us today (Thursday). He is living in Gaines county, on Lou, Star route, seventeen miles from Brownfield. He has a farm of 600 acres, so he tells us, having 400 in cotton and 200 in corn and maize. He says they have had fair rains in his country and prospects are good for crops. Buck likes the west fine. While here only for today, he met many old-time friends.

THIS WEEK'S DEMOCRAT-GAZETTE

Contains twelve pages, filled with good, live ads from our merchants as well as plenty of live national, state, county and local news. The Democrat-Gazette is in its fifty-first year of successful publication. Read the paper from "kiver to kiver," then give it to your neighbor to read.

OUR BEAUTIFUL "SILENT CITY" NEEDS ATTENTION

McKinney is proud of her well-located city cemetery. It takes its name from the fact that originally native pecans grew over its surface in its virgin state in a pretty grove. Hence, its name, Pecan Grove cemetery. Most of the pecan trees, however, as well as other trees, have been removed as too much shade mars rather than improves the attractive appearance of a cemetery. The shade is detrimental to the growth of Bermuda and other lawn grasses as it is also a hindrance to the growth of flowers and shrubbery and is also not best for tombstones, monuments and markers at the resting place of our beloved dead. Shade blackens the stone and granite monuments.

Early in the spring, Mr. Lane and his limited force of helpers were reinforced by labor provided free to the Cemetery Association by the Refinance Corporation Unemployment Federal Relief funds. Trees were beautifully trimmed up and the entire cemetery was put in first-class condition and the streets regraded and some of them regraveled. A number of lots not endowed nor kept were put in a clean and neat condition. But in the last two or three months these unprovided lots have grown up in grass and weeds again that mar the appearance of the cemetery.

Mr. Lane is doing the best he can to keep the cemetery in as presentable condition as he can. The ladies of the cemetery association are co-operating in every way they can. They are trying to induce those who have moved away to provide the means for keeping the lots and graves of their beloved dead buried here. This is a work of love that our entire citizenship is interested in. We hope that some means will be provided for the care of every lot that is not being looked after in our cemetery in the future.

Mr. Lane is an experienced sexton. He is a tireless worker, who gives expert attention and industry to the job. If you can encourage him and help the ladies of the Cemetery Association in any way to carry on the good work that means so much to the beauty of Pecan Grove cemetery, give them your friendship and cooperation. They need it. They will appreciate it. Our entire citizenship will appreciate it.

MRS. MATTHEWS IS VISITING AT MEMPHIS

In a letter to a McKinney friend, Mrs. W. H. Matthews, 1624 East Broadway, Long Beach, Cal., says that she greatly enjoys reading old home news from McKinney in The Weekly Democrat-Gazette. "I enjoyed reading a fine write-up of the 'Doll Lady.' Such a nice picture, too, of Mrs. Clifford S. Weaver. We are now having pleasant weather here in California." Mrs. Matthews and son, Frank, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. P. C. Matthews, all left Long Beach, June 8, in their auto for Memphis, Tenn., to visit Mrs. J. P. Pinkston for two weeks. Mrs. Matthews' address will be 1046 Pierce street, Memphis, while visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Pinkston, in that city. Mrs. Matthews has a host of friends in McKinney who are always interested in hearing from her. Her deceased husband and his brother, P. C. Matthews, also now deceased, owned and operated big dry goods stores for a number of years at Ennis and McKinney before selling them and moving to California about ten years ago, where both of the brothers later passed away.

Mrs. Wallace Perkins Smith of Wylie and sister, Miss Ruth Sutherland, of near Prosper, were shopping in McKinney Wednesday. They are daughters of our long-time good friend, J. H. Sutherland, prominent farmer, living northwest of Prosper near Parvin. Mrs. Smith has been teaching school at Kreymer, near Wylie, for four years and has been re-elected for her fifth year as principal of that two-teacher school. The other teacher is Miss Adelia Moore of Mount Vernon, who has also been re-elected. Mrs. Smith's husband, Wallace Perkins Smith, was named in honor of Senator Tom W. Perkins, one of the editors and proprietors of this paper. He is a son of the late U. J. Smith, an honored pioneer settler of the Wylie section of the county. Miss Ruth Sutherland is spending a week with her sister, Mrs. Smith, and husband, at Wylie. These cultured young lady school teachers had with them in McKinney Wednesday their beautiful little three-year-old niece, Virginia Ruth Gardner, whose parents live at Jarrell, near Georgetown, Texas.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT MAY GIVE THIRD OF LABOR AND MATERIAL

Secretary W. Hammond Moore of the McKinney Chamber of Commerce has been notified by Hubert M. Harrison, general manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, with headquarters at Longview, to the effect that the East Texas political subdivisions may undertake construction of public projects under the terms of the National Industrial Recovery act, which will be considered in a district meeting to be held at Paris Thursday, June 15, from 2 until 4 p. m. McKinney and Collin county are in District No. 1, which this Paris meeting will serve.

Practically every kind of a public project, it seems, will be eligible. The act provides that up to 30 per cent of the cost of labor and materials may be given as a direct grant by the Federal government to the political subdivision undertaking construction of a public project. Mr. Harrison said that, more than that, the act provides that the federal government will help finance the balance of the cost and that it looks as if the terms of such a loan will be as easy as possible. There will be no requirement that the project must be self-liquidating.

Mr. Moore states that President James H. Merritt of the local Chamber of Commerce and other local civic leaders and city officials of McKinney, as well as at Farmersville, Plano, Celina, Frisco and other centers of the county are all interested in this Paris meeting and, therefore, a large delegation may be expected to attend the Paris meeting next Thursday, June 15.

Indian Fighter, 89, Still Expecting State To Reward Him for Battling Comanches

The following story taken from a recent issue of the Dallas News tells of some of the experiences of Frank Jackson, old Indian fighter and Confederate soldier, who once lived near the Collin line. Mr. Jackson is nearing his 90th birthday. The story follows:

Indian fighting and engagements of the War Between the States are within the memory of Frank Jackson, 3536 Tremont, who has just celebrated his 89th birthday.

"I came with my parents from Devonshire, England, in 1848," Mr. Jackson said, "and have lived all my life in Dallas county except while I was a Texas ranger and a Confederate soldier. Mr. brother, W. M. Jackson, raised 100 men in Dallas county and I am the only surviving member of that company.

"The company was stationed first at Old Port Arbuckle to watch the Commanche Indians who were depredating the frontier of Texas. Early one morning the company surprised a party of twenty-five who had just broken camp for Texas. The Indians made for the mountains and two of our men singled out their chief. When the leading man got close enough he raised his gun to fire and both barrels missed fire. At that moment the Indian's horse fell in a ditch and the soldier's horse fell over the Indian, who was up in a minute and killed the soldier with an arrow.

"Last of His Scalping."

"The second soldier shot the Indian down with a load of buckshot. The warrior chief had on him a piece of elkskin on which were fastened 140 locks of hair—scalps. Well, that was the last of his scalping.

"We were then ordered to the front to meet old Jim Blunt, who said he would come to Texas and burn it up and leave it a black wilderness. We formed in Cooper's division and Cooper was camped at Honey Springs, about fifteen miles south of Fort Gibson. I was placed on picket duty and the night before the battle the federal army, commanded by Jim Blunt, was at Fort Gibson. General Cooper said General Cabbell was to come by that road from Briar Town with 3,000 men as reinforcements about midnight. I sat on my horse all night looking for Cabbell, but he never came.

"About sunup the federal army came. I loped in ahead of them and in the fight I was shot from my horse, a piece of shell striking my head.

Unconscious Two Weeks.

"I was unconscoius for over two weeks. The doctor looked at me and said: 'There is no need for me to fool with him, because he will die.' I will have to go help some of the other fellows that will do us some good after a while.'

"I have been looking for that doctor ever since, and if I had found him there would have been one doctor less in the world.

"The State of Texas promised to pay me $50 a month, but so far it has never fulfilled its promise. I suppose it is like that doctor—'there is no use to fool with him, he will soon die and we will need his money to pay some of the other fellows that will do us some good after a while.' But the State of Texas has a governor that is not like that. If she has the lawful right she will put him on the pay roll and have it dated back some fifteen or twenty years to pay him for all his suffering to keep the scalping knife of the Comanche Indians from taking any more scalps from women's heads in West Texas and for keeping old Jim Blunt from crossing Red river to burn Sherman, McKinney and Dallas."

F. Dudley Perkins, well known McKinney business man, is confined to his home with illness. All of Dud's friends hope that he will soon be up and out again—and he will.

One of the most beautiful floral sights to be seen in McKinney is the big bed of luxuriant cannas now in full bloom and in a riot of brilliant colors in the center of the spacious sloping lawn, east of the big two-story home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Scott, corner of West Louisiana and South College streets. Mr. Scott is the veteran president of the Collin County National bank. His wife is a lover and successful grower of flowers. She is one of our state's most gifted literary women and an author of increasing reputation.

Mrs. Tom L. Bailey of this city, accompanied by her son, Assistant District Attorney Eugene V. Bailey of Dallas, motored Saturday up to Duncan, Oklahoma, where she joined her other son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey. From Duncan, the party left for St. Louis and Chicago, Mrs. Bailey stopping in St. Louis for a two week's visit with her brother, Millard F. Beam, 6615 University Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey motoring on to Chicago where they will spend two weeks at the Century of Progress World's Fair. M. F. Beam is a former Collin county man, having been born and reared in Farmersville. However, he has been in St. Louis for the past twelve years, being connected with a large furniture establishment there as a salesman. Attorney Eugene Bailey returned to Dallas, Sunday.

This editor has received an appreciated invitation to the graduating exercises of the Senior class of the University of Colorado Monday, June 12, at 10 a. m., at Boulder. We are indebted to one of the seniors, Joe Theodore Richardson, who is graduating from the College of Engineering. Joe is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Richardson of Denver, Colo. His mother was formerly Miss Josie Parker, who was born and reared in McKinney and was teaching in our city schools here when she married. Joe's father, W. H. Richardson, was a harness-maker and saddler by trade in his younger days, holding a position several years with the firm of McKinney & Hill, saddle, harness and buggy concern for many years on the south side of the public square. After their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson moved to the northwest, where he embarked in business and made a success in merchandising for himself. Joe has visited McKinney, the former home of his parents, on several occasions, while his grandmother, Mrs. R. L. Parker, [illegible]

VISITING JURIST PRESIDES OVER COURT SESSION

Two sessions of Fifty-Ninth District court were in progress in McKinney Friday morning for a short while. In addition to regular criminal week proceedings in the district court room, presided over by Judge F. E. Wilcox, another session was held in the county courtroom, presided over by Judge R. M. Carter of Sherman.

Judge Carter presided over the case of the State of Texas vs. Jesse Guy Smith, charged with embezzlement, Judge Wilcox being disqualified in that particular case. The defendant pleaded guilty in four cases, the county attorney dismissing ten charges.

The case was tried before the court, who assessed a punishment of two years in each of the four cases, the sentences to run concurrently. The state was represented by Assistant County Attorney Leon O. Moses, while the defense was represented by Judge A. M. Wolford of the law firm of Truett, Abernathy & Wolford.

Other cases tried in district court include the following:

State of Texas vs. Ralph Howard Alsup, charged in two cases, one with burglary and another with theft; defendant was found guilty and sentenced to two years in each case.

State of Texas vs. Everett Stout, charged with theft of chickens; defendant was found guilty and given a sentence of 100 days in jail.

The case against Joe Neathery, charged with sale of intoxicating liquor, went to the jury about 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The jury could not agree, being discharged by Judge Wilcox Friday morning.

DALLAS MANAGER SELECTS UNDERSTUDY; YOUNG MAN STARTS AS DITCH DIGGER

(Dallas Times Herald).

Jimmy Aston, honor graduate, cadet colonel and star athlete of Texas A. & M. college, got a real "break" Saturday in the form of a job as City Manager John N. Edy's understudy.

During the next six months he will work in every department of the city government to get training in city management.

His practical education will be from the bottom up. Saturday he went to work as a ditch digger on a storm sewer project.

For years Edy has wanted to select some honor graduate of an engineering school as an understudy, since the practice has been approved by the International City Managers association. Last year he had an opportunity to pick a bright youth from Syracuse university's graduating class. But he deemed it unwise to bring a "damyank" to Dallas, a Southern city.

In young Aston he saw a happy choice. The 21-year-old lad not only is a graduate of a Texas college, but he hails from Farmersville, Collin county, a small town only forty-five miles from Dallas.

Aston received his degree in civil engineering and majored in municipal engineering. He wants to be a city egineer, perhaps a city manager. In addition to being an honor student, he was the highest ranking officers in the cadet corps, captain officer in the cadet corps, captain and star back on the 1932 football team and one of the most popular students on the campus.

For the present, Aston will work under O. H. Koch, public works director, and John Winder, waterworks superintendent.

He will receive no pay during most of his training period, although at the present he is drawing ditch digger's wages. If he makes good he may get a permanent job with this city or a recommendation which will land him a position elsewhere.

If the experiment proves successful, Edy may select an understudy from the graduating class of A. & M. or some other Southern college each year.

"THEY HAVE SOLD THE RIGHTEOUS FOR SILVER AND THE NEED FOR A PAIR OF SHOES"--- Amos 2:6.

By ELD. R. C. HORN

This qutoation from the prophet Amos as I se the work of our present legislature, applies to the present session. If they have passed a law to help the righteous of our state I fail to call it to mind. They have ignored the wishes of the best citizens of Texas by passing laws that destroy righteous by filling our state with gamblers and drunkards and prize fighters. They have done this for the sole purpose of raising money to balance the budget, hence have "sold the righteous for silver." They have "sold the needy for a pair of shoes." They have done this is the change made in the Confederate pension law. If she is over 75 years old she is to be paid $25 a month. If she is under 75 years old $12.50 a month. Now I happen to know many of these widows by assiting more than one hundred in securing their pensions. Many of the most needy ones are under 75, but more tha 60. The age required by the birth date of 1873. Many of these will not be able to buy a pair of shoes. While doing this, with a few exceptions they drew $10 a day for 126 days at the expense of the taxpayer, who would be glad to work for $1 a day. A widow is to be denied a pension now because she married a soldier in the spring and did not live one year. Or she may be denied a pension because she owns a home at $3,000 and $1,500 worth of taxable property while pensions are now paid to soldiers and widows worth ten times that in actual money or notes. Has there been a bill passed that aids righteousness? If so, name it.

Is a law that makes it legal to bet on the speed of a horse right and one making beting on other games a crime to be punished by fine and imprisonment right? Is prize-fighting the best way to train our boys to become good citizens? If there is a member of this legislature that has a son that he wishes to become a prize fighter I should like for him to say why.

I am glad that some members opposed these bills and I should remember them should they run again for an office. I endorse the following from an editorial in the Dallas News of June 2. "Members showed an inordinate desire to collect the maximum allowed them under the law, while asking other servants of the state to take deep reductions in pay."

Texas will not forget this."

C. J. BYRD OF ALVORD VISITOR HERE

Clarence J. Byrd, assistant cashier of the Alvord National bank, at Alvord, Texas, was greeting friends in McKinney Tuesday. Mr. Byrd was born and reared about ten miles northwest of McKinney in the Cottage Hill community, but left our county in 1906, going to Alvord. After an absence of twenty-seven years he says that the old timers in McKinney have thinned out until they are rather scarce. His old county seat home town looked good to him, however, and he enjoyed several hours' stay in the city. His father, J. J. (Uncle Jackie) Byrd, and wife came to Collin county soon after the close of the Civil war. His father borrowed the money from I. D. Newsome, pioneer McKinney merchant and money lender, with which to buy a yoke of oxen and wagon and to start farming. He hauled lumber from Jefferson with his ox team to build his house on land that he bought in the Cottage Hill community. He hewed the sills and other framing timber for his residence and farmed with his ox team. He paid for a farm and reared his family on it where he and his wife passed away many years ago. When he borrowed the money on his personal note, he had never seen Mr. Newsome before and gave only his plain note as evidence of the debt which he duly repaid with interest when it came due. This is only one example of many of the high code of honor prevailing among the hardy pioneers who settled up this country in dealing honestly with each other and living exemplary, honorable and industrious lives.

While in McKinney, these editors had the pleasure of shaking the friendly hand of Mr. Byrd and renewing acquaintances with him after his absence of more than a quarter of a century. He also met up with former County Tax Assessor J. K. P. Shrader, former County Judge T. O. Murray, Robert W. Gribbie and many other old McKinney friends. He and Robert Gribbie were boys together in the Cottage Hill community. Time has dealt gently with friend Byrd, who looks well and apparently from the position he has long held, is regarded with esteem and confidence in his adopted home at Alvord.

ONLY TWENTY-TWO CONFEDERATE VETERANS LEFT

A very interesting meeting was held by the veterans of Throckmorton Camp at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Waide in Southwest McKinney Sunday afternoon June 11 with Daughters of the Confederacy in charge.

Mrs. Joe H. Wilcox presided and gave the invocation. Several old Confederates, Confederate wives and widows were reported on the sick list. The status of pension matters affecting the remnant of these old Southern soldiers and their widows was discussed by the veterans who also discussed a place suitable for their annual dinner on the first day of the big McKinney picnic and ex-Confederates reunion to be held this summer.

Capt. W. H. Bristol, a veteran in his ninety-seventh year, entertained his old comrades and others present with several violin selections. His renditions of old time hymns and Southern airs were listened to with the utmost appreciation.

Eld. R. C. Horn reported that only twenty-two Confederate veterans are now living in Collin county so far as he knows.

Delicious refreshments were furnished by Mrs. Joe Wilcox, who was assisted in serving them by Miss Martha Waide.

The next regular meeting of the camp is scheduled for the first Sunday in next month—July 2.

The few surviving old Southern heroes still living in this city and county always feel much at home when guests of Mr. and Mrs. Waide. The latter was formerly Miss Alice Kirkpatrick, daughter of the late Gen. E. W. Kirkpatrick, a leader of the veterans and one of the department commanders up until the time of his death a few years ago. His old homestead and family residence is now in the possession of his son-in-law and daughter who likewise have the interests of the Confederate soldiers at heart. They always feel much at ease in this old Kirkpatrick family homestead in McKinney here where so many happy functions in their honor in the way of annual picnic dinners, reunions and camp meetings have been held during the years of the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Richardson and children, Jane and Bobby, came over from Athens Sunday to visit their uncle and aunt, Mr and Mrs. George M. Wilson. Mrs. Richardson's sister, Mrs. Lucille Needham, and a friend, Stanley Williams, accompanied them. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Needham and Miss Florine Jones will leave this week for Chicago to visit the Century of Progress World's Fair. While there, they will meet Jack Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richardson who has been in the United States [illegible]

COUNTY COTTON STATISTICIAN TO BE SELECTED

Examination will be held for a Collin county cotton statistician, application to be on file with the United States Civil service commission at Washington, D. C., not later than June 27, 1933. J. P. Thomas, at the McKinney postoffice, will give full particulars to any one desiring to make application for that government position.

The position pays $720 per year in this county and the examination is open only to residents of the county. The date for the examination, according to Mr Thomas, will be stated on the admission cards sent after receipt of application. Much interest is being taken in this particular position, and Mr. Thomas says he is having a number of inquiries regarding same.

12 AMENDMENTS TO BE PASSED ON BY TEXANS

Austin, Tex., June 10.—Twelve changes in the basic law of Texas will be voted upon by the electorate in the next several months, in the farm of amendments to the constitution submitted by the forty-third legislature.

According to Representative George Moffett of Chillicothe, who was chairman of the constitutional amendments committee of the forty-third legislature, twelve is not an unusual number of changes to be submitted at one session.

The amendments will be submitted in two installments: At the special election Aug. 26, and at the regular election in November, 1934. Amendments to be submitted Aug. 26 are:

Legalizing 3.2 per cent beer; authorizing the legislature to issue up to $20,000,000 in bonds for unemployment; extending the principle of home rule government to counties.

◆ ◆ ◆

For Next Year.

Amendments to be submitted in November, 1934, are:

Extending the powers of Commissioners courts in larger counties, so that they may fix salaries of deputies and other officers, thus in part effecting an abolition of the fee system and in part providing for county home rule; extending the tax exemption for $3,000 homesteads to those countries whose taxes are remitted by law; two amendments allowing the city of Houston to amend its city charter; providing that the section of the constitution saying all taxes must be equal and uniform shall hereafter read "all taxes on property," thus permitting a small tax on notes, bonds, and bank accounts and other assets; permitting the merger of counties; taxing university of Texas lands for county, city of Texas lands for county, school and district purposes, limiting state taxes to not more than $22.50 per person for each bienniu, this amount being the average for the past eight years; and abolishing the fee system as a means of compensating law enforcement officials.

These twelve were but a few of the numerous amendments proposed. Here's a summary of the residue.

Eighteen proposed amendments dealing with the terms and salaries of constitutional officers, seeking to raise their salaries and extend their terms.

Five amendments to lessen the number of members of the legislature, to limit the number of any one county may have, etc.

Three amendments to abolish, combine, or otherwise cut down the number of county and local officers.

Three amendments to limit the ad valorem tax or abolish it altogether, or extend the exemptions under the present $3,000 homestead exemption amendment.

Five amendments to reorganize the state's judiciary, increase the number of supreme court judges, etc.

And one each:

To repeal constitutional prohibition.

Providing a more secret ballot, the legislature to devise the way.

Decreasing the legal rate of interest.

Extending the time for payment of poll taxes from Jan. 31 to July 1.

Abolishing poll taxes as a requirement for voting.

Subjecting bonds, warrants and note to taxation.

Calling a new constitutional convention.

Allowing high interest on small loans.

Exempting manufacturers from state taxes.

Authorizing municipalites to make flat-rate contracts with utilities.

Levying a tax for the support of the aged.

Ratifying the child labor amendment to the national constitution.

State-wide highway bond issue.

Allowing a tax for liberty maintenance.

Changing the method of appointing notaries.

Allowing prosecution of felons by informations.

Granting State aid to schools [illegible]

PARIS EDITOR INVITES OLD HOME COUNTY

Editor Pat Mayse of the Paris Morning News and Vice President of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce for District No. 1, embracing twelve counties including Collin, sends an urgent personal invitation to Mayors, city officials, county judge, county commissioners and Chambers of Commerce representatives and representatives from every town in Collin county to attend a meeting in Paris Thursday afternoon, June 5, from 2:00 to 4:00 o'clock to hear a discussion on the public works program of the Federal government. He says that Hubert M. Harrison, general manager, and other officials of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce who have made a study of the program, will tell communities how to take advantage of this Federal government cooperation. The government will give up to thirty per cent of the cost of some public projects and loan the money to do the balance.

McKinney and Collin county will be largely represented at this meeting next Thursday.

MINUTES OF LAST BAPTIST JOINT CONVENTION

In the Library of Congress are preserved the minutes of the last joint meeting of Northern and Southern Baptists, who split 88 years ago over the question of slavery. These differences were all but forgotten last week as the two great factions of the church met together in Washington for the first time since 1845 in "good fellowship" sessions. The records are preserved, however, for those who wish to dig back into the musty past. They are found in a dapple-backed book with brown leather corners and yellowed leaves in the BX6201 shelf in the Library of Congress.

It's the bound volume for 1844 and 1845 of the Baptist Memorial and Monthly Record, which truly says it is "devoted to the history, biography, literature and statistics of the denomination."

Recording church history as it occurred from month to month, this magazine was so full in its accounts that both Northern and Southern churches could turn to it today with fear of raising the ghosts of old disagreements.

When the break came it fully chronicled not only the Northern convention of 1845, but the Southern one also, saying of the latter:

"A more dignified body has rarely been assembled. Such men may be mistaken, but it is impossible not to respect them."

In Philadelphia, "city of brotherly love," was held in April, 1844, that long-ago last convention of all the Baptists, described by the publication thus:

"At the appointed hour, 7½ o'clock p. m., an immense congregation was assembled, among whom were seen many of the most eminent of our ministering brethren from the East, West and South."

The bound magazine made it all vivid. An anoymous author's accounts provided historical background for the heated discussion that arose at Philadelphia when "the Rev. Mr. Adlam, of Maine," an abolitionist, wanted the convention to decide "whether a minister, being a slave owner, could be a home missionary."

By the most careful compromise the 1844 meeting went on to an harmonious finale. However, May of the next year found the Southern Baptists meeting in Augusta, Ga., to make permanent organization, while the northerners also effected their separate entity.—National Tribune, Washington, D. C.

LAYMEN DAY OBSERVED BY METHODISTS

Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock Dr. Claude M. Simpson, pastor of the First Methodist church of this city, gave the hour over to a strictly laymen service, it being observed as Laymen's Sunday throughtout the bounds of Southern Methodism.

The services were in charge of R. J. Walton who presented Hon. H. H. Neilson, church lay leader, as the speaker. Mr. Neilson made a very forceful and interesting address on "Stewardship." Other laymen taking part in the service were Judge G. R. Smith, Gibson Caldwell, Chas. M. Cooper and W. Hammond Moore, the latter being district lay leader of the McKinney District. Mrs. Gibson Caldwell, choir director and pipe organist, gave an appropriate musical program for the occasion with Miss Magnolia Simpson, teacher of Latin and Greek in Millsaps college, Mississippi, as soloist. Miss Simpson, who possesses a wonderful voice, is in McKinney visiting her uncle, Dr. Claude M. Simpson, and family.

R.E.L. Montgomery And Wife of Waco On Visit Here

R. E. L. Montgomery of Waco, accompanied by his wife, is a patient in Dr. J. A. Caldwell's sanitarium. Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery are parents of R. C. Montgomery of this city, popular and well-liked agent for the Railway Express company. Mr. Montgomery is one of long tenure in the express business, having been with the Railway Express Co., for thirty-five or forty years.

This editor has known and been associated with Mr. Montogmery in the A. O. W. and Knights of Pythias for thirty years, he being one of the outstanding fraternalists of Texas. Mr. Montgomery has entered Dr. Caldwell's private sanitarium for treatment. Mrs. Montgomery will return home in a few days. Naturally, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. L. Montgomery wanted to come to McKinney to see their fine young grandchild, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Montgomery, of this city.

DEMONSTRATIONS ANNOUNCED BY MISS DUNLAP

Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration agent, announces that demonstrations in making of pickles, and stepping stone walks will be given next week. These demonstrations are scheduled as follows:

Those interested in either or both demonstrations are invited to be present at the ones most convenient for them.

Miss Robinson Weds Arnold LeFevre on 25th

Miss Margie Robinson and Mr. Arnold LeFevre, both well known young people of Farmersville, were united in mariage at Hugo, Okla. on Thursday, May 25, by Rev. Quick.

The couple returned home immediately and kept the wedding a secret till yesterday, when friends happened to see a notice of the marriage licenses being issued which was published in a Paris paper.

The bride in this happy event is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Robinson, for many years an honored resident of Farmersville. She is a lady of lovable disposition and a talented teacher, having for several years been teacher of math and business in Farmersville High school. Mr. LeFevre has for years been employed with the Bivens Shoe Store in Farmersville and is a capable and popular young business man, the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. LeFevre.

OFFICERS OF ST. JOHN'S MASONIC LODGE ELECTED

St. John's Masonic Lodge, No. 51, A. F. & A. M., of this city met Saturday night and elected officers for the coming year, as follows:

C. E. Goggans, W. M.
R. L. Brackman, S. W.
J. M. Thompson, J. W.
Jim Mack Lewis, S. D.
W. C. Davidson, J. D.
B. F. Skelton, secretary.
W. L. Brown, treasurer.
G. C. Ford, Tiler.

Mrs. John F. Riggs and little 4-year-old son, John Forest Riggs Jr., of Wathena, Kan., are here visiting their mother and grandmother, Mrs. T. C. Andrews, until the first of July. Mrs. Riggs was formerly Miss Fay Andrews, who was born and reared here, and who was teaching in our city schools until her marriage a few years ago. Her father, Judge T. C. Andrews, recently went to the state capital at Austin to assume his position as chairman of the state board of pardons and paroles to which he was appointed for a six-year term by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson. Mrs. Riggs will be here as company for her mother and help her make arrangements to move to Austin possibly later in the summer to join Judge Andrews during his official stay at the state capital. Mrs. Riggs' husband is a science teacher and athletic coach for a Kansas college at Wathena.

GOV. FERGUSON SIGNS WILD FLOWER BILL

Austin, Texas, June 10.—After August 30 it will be a punishable offense to pick or destroy any wild flowers, plants or trees on the inclosed land of another without his permission or in State parks without the custorian's assent. Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson Friday signed the bill imposing a fine of from $1 to $10 for violating the law.

The act makes it an offense to transport on a public highway or expose for sale any holly, youpon, smilax, dogwood, red bud, bluebonnets, Indian paint brush, cactus, gallardidia, Texas blue bells, gentian, gay feather, blazing star of Liatris, fern or moss.

A practice in Texas has been to cut cedar trees indiscriminately along the highways. Thousands have been removed every year for Christmas trees and hundreds of them sold.

Bluebonnets have been picked by countless thousands every year and the fern dells have been denuded. Redbuds, blue bells and other wild flowers have almost disappeared from land adjacent to the highways.

Governor Ferguson also signed a bill authorizing the State to accept the terms of the Federal unemployment relief act which provides that on lands owned by the State, county or city the profits from the work shall be equally divided between the Federal and State Governments until the work is paid for at $1 a day a man with a maximum of $3 an acre.

Approval also was given a bill authorizing the highway commission to build bridges over the intercoastal canal of Texas and Louisiana.

Announcement has been received by friends in McKinney of the marriage of Hoyt Smoot of Blue Ridge and Miss Margie Moore of Mount Vernon, the nuptials being solemnized Monday, June 5, at Texarkana. The bride has been teaching for the past few years at Muleshoe, Texas, near the New Mexico line. The groom is teacher of the Oak Grove school in this county. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Smoot of Blue Ridge.

M'KINNEY PASTOR ONE OF AUSTIN COLLEGE TRUSTEES

Dr. R. L. Cowan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city and a member of the Board of Trustees of Austin college, Sherman, recently attended a meeting of the Board during commencement exercises of that well known North Texas Presbyterian school.

Dr. Cowan announces that the summer school of the college begins June 12 and the eighty-fifth year will be opened on September 13.

At their last meeting of the year, Dr. E. B. Tucker, president of the college, reported on the year's activities. The Board gave its approval to the granting of honorary degrees to two Master Arts and 47 Bachelor Arts at the graduating exercises. "The Board considers the outlook at the college materially improved," Dr. Tucker said. "We believe we are beginning to see daylight." he added, "And are loking forward with confidence to the coming year."

83½ CENTS FOR 1933 WHEAT PAID IN FORT WORTH

The first car of 1933 Texas wheat offered for sale on the Fort Worth market sold Saturday for 83½ cents a bushel.

The car, consigned by T. L. Houston of Crowell to Transit Grain and Commission Company, graded No. 3 dark hard, and tested 57.7 pounds. It had a protein content of 15.80. The wheat sold on the basis of 86½ cents a bushel for No. 1 delivered.

Purchaser was the Pearlstone Mill and Elevator company of Dallas.

Mrs. G. C. Walters went down to Dallas Sunday to spend a few days visiting relatives in that city. She was accompanied by her son, Malcolm Walters, assistant county superintendent.

ROTARY IS THE LEAVEN THAT WILL EVENTUALLY BRING ABOUT WORLD PEACE AND GOOD WILL

McKinney Rotarians, at their Friday noonday meeting last week, were treated to a very interesting talk by their president, Horace H. Neilson, on the topic given him "Do Rotarians' Minds Meet and How?"

The speaker was presented by A. H. Eubanks, chairman of the program committee of the day.

President Neilson attended the International Rotary convention at Seattle in June, 1932. While there, as representative of the McKinney club, he contacted representative Rotarians from clubs from the four corners of the globe. He conversed with members from Great Britain, South America, Africa, Australia and Asia. He said that he found them all human beings just like we are here in North America. Some were white, others olive skin and still others were of a darker hue—the excitable Latin people, mingled with the phlegmatic norsemen from Norway, Sweden and Denmark. He found, after their natural prejudices were brushed aside that their thoughts ran very much alike in the same channels. That they are striving to the same end and ideals is evident from the similarity of their activities. In Beyrout, Soria, he found that the Rotary club has taken charge of the education, clothing and feeding of eighty children. A certain German club, invited sixteen sons of Rotarians in Great Britain to visit Mainz, the club's home, from the 6th to the 19th of August in order that the British boys could grain direct insight into the family life of German rotarians.

At Avigon, France the Rotary club has a vacation camp for sons of other European Rotarians.

At Sarajeve, Jugolavia, the Rotary club supplies elementary school pupils with books and other necessities of life to keep them in school.

In Canada, the Fort William (Ontario) Rotary club raised $675 cash this year for a milk fund for poor children.

The Songerton, Pennsylvania Rotary club, fostered a high school debate on the question "Resolve that the United States Should Recognize Russia."

The West Point, Ga., club established a free clinic in which 855 patients were treated the past year at a cost to the club of more than $5000.

By invitation, Prime Minister Ramsey MacDonald of the British Empire sent a message to Rotary International. He graciously responded with the following "The Business man should take a foremost place in the ranks of Ambassadors of World peace."

Rotarian Neilson contended that international cooperation and good will only can solve the ills and problems of these distressing times and of a vexed world.

Rotary provides mankind with an opportunity for contact with men in other walks of life who look at their work from the same viewpoint. So Rotary, in effect is acting as a mass movement to bring concerted action for the general betterment of human relationship between the nations and races of the world. Fellowship is the watchword of Rotary. "Service above Self," "He Profits Most who Serves Best." Our mottoes, which together with the Code of Ethics of Rotary are vastly benefiting the nearly seventy nations in which more than 3,600 Rotary clubs are functioning.

No matter what language you speak, declared Rotarian Neilson, or what language your fellow Rotarian speaks, whether in Peru, Canada, United States, Japan, China, or Germany, language has no difficulty in seeing the meaning of the word friendship. Prejudice, narrowness and preconceived notions fade away when friendship enters.

These are the noble aspirations that animate the McKinney Rotary club and all other Rotary clubs of the world regardless of what nation they may be located in.

STAR ENTERTAINERS.

Those who attended the Ritz theater Tuesday night went away commending both the "The Little Red Schoolhouse Revue" and the picture program which Manager Roy L. Brockman had to offer. The revue was given by the talented pupils of Miss Carrie Jean Davis and Mrs. H. A. Finch Jr., two of our most talented teachers of expression and dance. They boast scores of talented pupils and the boys and girls on the program seemed thrilled at being star entertainers.

FAST THINNING BAND.

In yesterday's Daily Courier-Gazette was a story concerning the meeting of Throckmorton Camp U. D. C. One fact that story contained was provided by Kid. R. C. Horn, who says that only twenty-two Confederate veterans are now living in Collin county. This band of gallant Confederate soldiers is fast thinning out. Each year there is a decrease in numbers of this brave group who fought for "The Lost Cause." We can not praise too highly nor commend too much these aging veterans. During the annual Collin County Confederate Veterans' and Old Settlers' Picnic and Reunion, held in McKinney each summer, they are always guests of honor and the recipients of every possible courtesy and honor which friends can pay them. We have often attended the dinner given on the first day of this annual celebration, held down at Finch park in recent years, and have thoroughly enjoyed the comradeship of this fine band of men, who are always interesting to converse with and who seem to enjoy living over and over again scenes of past decades, and especially incidents happening during the war between the states. Each year this band of gallant heroes is growing smaller and smaller. Let's pay honor to these old-timers of ours who have meant so much to the history of our state and nation.

RITZ THEATER FRONT.

Congratulations to Marshall [illegible] Jr. and W. E. Bonham for their artistic ability, so aptly proved by their decoration of the Ritz theater front. The scene, which now impresses one as they pass by the theater, is decidedly "wintry." In fact, even on the hottest day, we are prone to shiver once or twice when we see that snowy scene, with Eskimo igloos and polar bears.

COURAGE.

Of course, if they insist we suppose there's nothing to do but permit ambitious aviators to fly off on those long-distance hops, at great risk of life. However, we know a lot more things we'd much rather do than to take such a long chance. Yet we must admit we admire the courage of these plucky flyers.

PAUL K. WILSON LEADS IN CALLING REUNION WILSON FAMILIES JUNE 25

Paul K. Wilson, one of the efficient clerks at the big J. P. Dowell Hardware and Furniture establishment, has taken the lead in arranging for a reunion of the Wilson families to be held at Finch Park all day Sunday, June 25. His invitation sent out by mail says:

"Get out that old picnic basket, fill it up with eats and come on over to McKinney and let's have a sure enough reunion. It's going to take some time to put this over so won't you please keep this date in mind and if possible, let me know before hand what your plans are. Be here. Paul K. Wilson, for Committee."

Wilson On Both Sides.

Paul K. Wilson, World War veteran, who earned medals from both the French and American governments for gallant soldierly service on front lines with the German armies in Northern France and Belgium, is a descendant of Wilsons on both sides of his family. His father, the late Prof. T. M. Wilson, was a Collin county school teacher for more than forty years. His mother, also deceased, was before her marriage, Miss Jennie Wilson. On his father's side Paul K. is of the third generation of Wilson's who have lived in this county and city. His paternal grandfather, Adam T. Wilson, a McKinney business man for many years, died here, July 3, 1896. Paul's great-grandfather on his father's side was Thos. Wilson, who died at the age of 92 in 1892, at, Gainsboro, Tennessee where the family settled nearly 150 years ago. Paul's grandfather on his mother's side was George A. Wilson, a Mexican War soldier who died in McKinney about forty years ago. He settled here in 1845, a year before Collin county was organized and three years before McKinney was founded. His great-grandfather, Addison Wilson, father of George A. Wilson, came from Summer county, Tenn., and died in Collin county in 1868. He is buried on the Wilson homestead at Ash Grove, about eight miles north of McKinney, now owned by A. M. (Uncle Gus) Wilson who is still living on it and who is the oldest living member of either branch of the family. The Wilsons, therefore, were among the first pioneers settling this county and founding McKinney. By affinity, the numerous Wilson posterity, through nearly ninety years residence in this section, have become related to many of the other oldest North Texas families. Paul was surprised to find about 300 members of the Wilson clan and contact them in the interest of this first joint reunion of the two wings of the family. He expects a large representation of them at Finch Park at the reunion which will be purely an informal gathering for the purpose of reunion and social pastime and pleasure.

◆ ◆ ◆

Paul is to be commended for taking the lead in arranging for the reunion and for the great amount of trouble and work he has gone to in communicating with his several hundred kinspeople. Finch Park is an ideal place for such a family reunion, and we trust that Paul's enterprise and initiative may be rewarded by a large turnout of relatives on that occasion.

Rev. R. F. Shinn Blind Preacher Is Thankful

Our former Presiding Elder, H. G. Ryan of McKinney district, drove up recently with a nice supply of groceries and other articles which was donated and sent by the ladies missionary society of First Methodist church, McKinney. This was a happy surprise, a needed and appreciated gift and also an appreciated visit by the Elder.

We also acknowledge and appreciate nice gifts from the following churches of the Denton district, since we have been living at Lewisville. Denton First Church, Sanger, Gainesville First Church, Whaley Memorial, Aubrey, Pilot Point, Justin and our home church at Lewisville.

We also appreciated a nice gift box from Travis St. Church, Sherman. We wish our many friends to know that we certainly appreciate their interest in us and pray God's most glorious blessings to continue with them.

Your humble and appreciative friends,

Mrs. S. O. Scott is in Fort Worth for a few days' visit.

In the Atlantic City auditorium is the largest organ in the world, says H. L. Piner in the Sherman Democrat. On each side of the manual are hundreds of stops. The organ has 32,882 pipes. The organist uses practically every muscle in his body to play this gigantic instrument. He must be an athletic type or he cannot endure the physical strain combined with the necessary mental effort involved in playing. Over twenty pedals require expert foot gymnastics to bring out the bass tones. The pipes are not all in one group. They are distributed in numerous portions of the auditorium, in fact in eighteen different locations. The largest pipe lacks only two inches of being 66 feet long. It is capable of producing a sound two octaves lower than the lowest C of the piano. The smallest pipe is about the size of a flute. Air pressure is supplied by eight electric blowers that develop 365 horsepower. The construction used enough wire to encircle the earth twice and 225,000 board feet of lumber. The cost is $400,000.

POISONOUS MEAT COST 3,000 LIVES

COMMENT OF FORMER ARMY HEAD MAY PROVE INTERESTING

(From the Kansas City Journal, June 5, 1906.)

Gen. Nelson A. Miles, on his way to Colorado, last night, said:

"The disclosures about packing house products now being exploited are no news to me. I knew it several years ago. I told what I knew then. Had the matter been taken up at that time thousands of lives would have been saved.

"I believe that 3,000 United States soldiers lost their lives because of adulterated, impure, poisonous meat.

"I have a barrel of testimony on the subject in the way of affidavits which I collected when I made my investigation seven years ago. The investiging committee refused to hear 2,000 witnesses whom I had ready. At that time I could have secured the testimony of 100,000 men that the canned beef sold to the Army was impure, adulterated and unwholesome.

"In my investigation of 'embalmed' beef during the Spanish-American War, I found poisons were used to preserve meat. I ordered an investigation, and learned from the reports brought to me that canned meats had been sold to the Army that had been for months in the warehouses of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad and at the docks in Liverpool.

"This meat had been relabed and sold to the United States for soldiers' rations. I turned the reports over to the War Department and a whitewashing investigation was instituted and successfuly carried out. The official report was that a 'colossal error' had been made. As a matter of fact, it was a colossal fraud, and the persons who perpetrated it and were interested in it should have been sent to the penitentiary."

Nearly 100 acres pretty good land, near Celina, for $15 an acre. Very little cash to handle. No trade. Once sold for $150. This bargain naturally, is for sale by the McKINNEY REALTY COMPANY. See 'em quick.

SHEPPARD NAMED AS CHAIRMAN OF DRY CONVENTION

United States Senator Morris Sheppard was named Saturday by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson to act as chairman and call the prohibition convention to meet in Austin June 27 to select the list of delegates and alternates to represent the antirepealists at the election Aug. 26. No action has been taken as to the chairman of the wet convention. He must be named by June 17.

Sheppard is expected to accept as he already has said he would campaign Texas against repeal.

◆ ◆ ◆

Any Voter Can Be Delegate.

When named, the chairmen will issue calls for the conventions and any qualified voter is authorized to participate in one meeting, but not in both. The conventions may elect their permanent chairmen on convening and set up their machinery for the battle.

Each convention will name thirty-one delegates and thirty-one alternates to go on the official balot. One delegate and one alternate will be named from each senatorial district by each side, but they will be voted on by the State as a whole. This will makeato tal of 124 names on the ballots, sixty-two by each side. On the ninetith day after the election, Nov. 24, the winning delegates will meet at Austin to declare the result. If the wet ticket wins the convention will declare that Texas voted for the Twenty-First Amendment to the Constitution, which is for the repeal of the Eighteenth. If the drys win the convention will declare against the Twenty-First Amendment.

Form of Ballot Prescribed.

The law prescribes the form of ballot and stipulates that the names of delegates and alternates shall appear in alphabetical order and in perpendicular columns. It also provides a bried explanation on the ballot, so that a voter casting his ballot for ratification will know that he is voting a wet ticket, and vice versa.

Voters will also cast ballots at the same time on whether the State will permit the manufacture and sale of 3.2 per cent beer in this State under the local option plan, with a number of counties voting on it at the same time.

DR. W. T. HOARD PRESIDENT COLLIN COUNTY FARMER'S MUTUAL INSURANCE CO.

Its annual meeting was recently held in McKinney by the Collin County Farmers' Mutual Insurance company at which the year's business was considered, a board of directors elected and officers chosen for the ensuing year.

Ed S. Brown, the efficient secretary-treasurer for the past eleven years, made his annual report for the fiscal year ending June 5, 1933. More than two million dollars of insurance is now carried on the company's books. The company, which was organized in 1901, limits its business to fire, lightning and wind storm insurance exclusively on Collin county farm property only. Its total assessments for the fiscal year just ended, amounted to only $7.50 per thousand of insurance carried by the company, which is regarded as an excellent showing.

Dr. Hoard New President.

Stockholders re-elected the following board of directors: J. N. Bush of Allen, John H. Ferguson of McKinney, C. C. Carruth of Weston, Chas. M. Bryan of McKinney, A. L. Carpenter of Farmersville, Dr. W. T. Hoard of McKinney, and John W. Haggard of Plano.

J. N. Bush, who had served as president for the last ten or twelve years, at his own request, retired from that position and was succeeded by Dr. W. T. Hoard of McKinney. John H. Ferguson of McKinney was re-elected vice president.

Jesse G. Graves of McKinney was re-elected agent and adjustor and Ed S. Brown of McKinney, re-elected secretary-treasurer of the organization. The company's headquarters and office is located on the second floor of the Wilson building on the northeast corner of the public square over the Central State bank. Mr. Graves has served as agent and adjustor since 1922 and was commended as was also Ed S. Brown, secretary and treasurer, for fidelity to their respective positions and the energetic and capable manner in which they perform their duties.

Many claims were filed against the company during the past twelve months, which have all been promptly adjusted and satisfied according to the terms of their insurance contract with the company.

The Collin County Farmers' Mutual Insurance company, now nearing its third of a century existence, has been competently managed and made a successful going concern by those charged with its conduct. It has grown into one of our county's important large-scale business institutions.

Only Quality Goods Can Use Advertising

Manufacturers who advertise expect to get repeat business because of the quality and the efficiency of their product. They produce high quality goods on which they concentrate their advertising. Initial cost of introducing the goods would be prohibitive if there was no assurance of repeat business and that can only come through the recognition of merit by the consumer. Only quality products can stand advertising.

K. C. Baking Powder has been on the market for more than 42 years. During all that period its manufacture has been under the direct supervision of members of the family which now controls the company. Their purpose has always been to manufacture a baking powder of the highest quality and sell it at a fair price. The demand for K. C. has steadily increased, year after year. More pounds are sold than of any other brand. This is proof positive that their policy has been right.

The U. S. government presented the Jaques Manufacturing company with a certificate of merit and award for distinguished service during the World war. In co-operating with the government they supplied more K. C. Baking Powder than all other brands combined. Since that time more K. C. has been used in various governmental departments than any other brand. A fine testimonial to K. C. Baking Powder, since merchandise used by the government must be of high quality.

Manufacturers who expect repeat business, advertise products of real quality. In co-operating with the wholesale and retail grocers the makers of K. C. Baking Powder have consistently followed a plan of advertising in a large list of newspapers year after year. Dealers are not asked to become distributors for free merchandise on which they realize no profit and which reduces their volume of sales. The Jaques Manufacturing company believes that the dealer is entitled to a fair profit on all goods he handles. Such a policy is worthy of recognition and deserving of the support of every dealer in the country. In featuring K. C. the merchant can be confident that he is offering his trade the best baking powder possible to produce—at a price that means a saving without sacrifice in quality—one that pays him a splendid margin of profit at the same time.

Congressman C. B. Randell came down from Sherman today to [illegible] with his Collin county [illegible]

Mrs. J. O. Belden was called to Denison Tuesday night due to the serious illness of her sister's husband, P. H. Parsons.

Jess Eakle's new home, 417 North Church street, is completed. It's one of the nicest and most modern homes in our city. Mr. Eakle and family have moved in. They have lived for many years at Blue Ridge. McKinney gains a good family in the Eakles.

Mrs. M. J. Hight is visiting for sometime her granddaughter, Mrs. Floyd Stribling and husband, on Route 1, Gordonville, Texas. Her granddaughter was formerly Miss Mary Elizabeth Morton, who was born and reared in McKinney. [illegible]

REMAINS OF MRS. J. T. BELL LAID TO REST

Funeral services for Mrs. J. T. Bell were held at 4 o'clock (Tuesday) afternoon at the family residence, 922 South Tennessee street, conducted by Dr. Robert L. Cowan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church who spoke words of comfort and hope to the surviving children and grandchildren and many friends gathered to pay their last respects to this dear old mother, christian woman and friend. Many floral offerings covered her casket and bier. Interment followed in Pecan Grove cemetery under the direction of the Massie Funeral home.

Active pallbearers: Joe Dulaney, A. M. Scott, Walter B. Wilson, R. D. Erwin, Ed Lynn, John Doyle, Judge E. W. Merritt, Ernest Wilson and Scotty Forsyth.

Old Southern Ancestry.

Mrs. Bell was born at Harrisburg, Ky. Her maiden name was Sue H. Gray, daughter of the late Judge J. W. Gray and wife, a beloved pioneer couple who later moved to Texas and are both sleeping in beautiful Pecan Grove cemetery here. She had good educational advantages considering the time of her girlhood, attending district school and then girl colleges at both Harrisburg and Shelbyville, Ky. She was married in Kentucky to the late Prof. J. T. Bell, a son of Dr. David and Charlotte Bell of another prominent Kentucky family, whose forebears were among the eminent statesmen and judges of Kentucky. Prof. and Mrs. Bell moved to Texas about 1877 and settled in Collin county. He taught many years in Collin county. They first settled at Allen. He taught school at Whites Grove, Forest Grove, near Wylie also at Viney Grove and at Stiff Chapel. He bought a farm at the latter place where he lived for many years until he and his wife bought a place in McKinney and moved to town where both spent the remainder of their years and where both died.

Mrs. Bell was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church and during her active life loved to attend its services, and do her full part in promoting the kingdom of her Lord. She was a home loving wife and mother who thought no sacrifice for the well being of her loved ones or for her neighbors was too great for her to gladly make. She and her husband had high ideals of life for which they stood and exemplified in their home. She was cheerful, and pleasant to those about her. After the departure of her husband about two years ago she was lonely and heartbroken, but lived for those about her and never murmured about her illness or sufferings, which she stood with true, christian fortitude and patience. She left a bright heritage to her children and grandchildren in the memory of the true Christian life which she lived. One of her relatives, Rev. Samuel E. Latsley, a noted Presbyterian missionary to Africa whose dust sleeps on the banks of the Congo, is a name known throughout the Presbyterian church.

Her Surivors.

She is survived by two sons, Claud B. Bell, 5403 Worth street, Dallas and David Erwin Bell of Emory, Texas and by two daughters, Miss Bessie Bell and Miss Vivian Bell. These loving daughters in the home cared for her and ministered to her every want until the very last fleeting breath. One child, Lottie May, a little eight-year-old daughter, preceded her to the grave as did also her husband who died June 26, 1931. She is also survived by three grandchildren, Roy Bell of Kilgore; Gordon Bell, who lives in the home with his grandmother and aunts and Miss Elsie Elizabeth Bell of Dallas. Mrs. Bell was the last of a family of three children to pass away.

One of the most sincere mourners at the death of this good woman was Lloyd (Dutch) Owen, an old negro of our city who was brought to Texas by her parents, the late Judge J. W. Gray and wife. Lloyd was the son of a negro woman slave that belonged to Judge Gray in Kentucky before the war. After the freedom of the slaves, he continued to live with the Gray family and when they were children played with the deceased in her father's home.

It was the expressed wish of the deceased before she passed on that the same minister, the same pallbearers and the same undertaker, as nearly as could be had, should officiate at her funeral and burial, as did at the obsequies of her revered husband who died two years ago. This final wish the loving children faithfully carried as best they could.

Little Miss Mary Lou Brooks is ill with the measles. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Brooks.

O. L. Hope and wife of this city and the latter's sister, Mrs. H. D. Jones, of Wichita Falls, attended the funeral in Greenville Monday, June 12, of Mrs. Rosa Dixon, aunt of Mesdames Hope and Jones that afternoon. The deceased passed away in Southwest Texas near Edinburg, but formerly lived in the [illegible] section of our county. The deceased was [illegible] years old. [illegible]

NEVADA PASTOR SPENDING WEEK IN M'KINNEY

These editors had a most genial call Friday morning from their long-time friend and patron, Rev. H. F. Vermillion, pastor of the Baptist church at Nevada, who spent the week in McKinney, attending the minister's retreat that was held for the benefit of Baptist ministers of Collin county.

Rev. Mr. Vermillion and wife attended the recent eighty-eighth annual session of the Southern Baptist convention, held in the City auditorium at Washington, D. C. This convention, held in the National capital, was one of the most interesting Rev. Mr. Vermillion has ever attended, and he has missed only two of them in thirty years.

He and his wife drove the 1,500 miles to the national capital in their auto with a minimum of car trouble and a maximum of pleasure. They were accompanied by three lady friends—Mrs. R. C. Fortner of Plano, district president (fourteen counties) of the Baptist Women's Missionary union; Mrs. Olivia Davis of Dallas, state treasurer of W. M. U. and Mrs. W. J. Leigh, also of Dallas, state secretary of the W. M. U. They were gone two weeks. They went by the southern route—Memphis, Nashville, Knoxville, Tenn.; Asheville, N. C., and Richmond, Va., and returned home by the northern route—Columbus, Ohio, Indianapolis, Indiana; St. Louis, Joplin, Missouri and Muskogee, Okla.

Rev. Mr. Vermillion had visited the national capital city a number of times before this trip, but it was the first visit for several of his lady companions who greatly enjoyed seeing the federal government buildings and other points of interest in the beautiful federal capital of the nation.

Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration club agent, visited her clubs at Winningkoff and Higgins Tuesday.

Miss Wilma Copeland, a student in the East Texas State Teachers college, at Commerce, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Copeland, in this city. She will teach at Branch again next year.

Mrs. Floyd S. Nelson and attractive little daughter, May Ruth, of Dallas, are guests of her parents, Hon. and Mrs H. A. Finch, in this city. May Ruth had part on the program at the Ritz theater Tuesday evening given by the Davis-Finch studios.

WIFE OF E. A. GLADDEN DIES AT CELINA HOME

Mrs. Mary Ann Gladden, wife of E. A. Gladden, died at the family home in Celina, at 4:15 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. She was 77 years of age and had been ill about ten days, the immediate cause of her death being a paralytic stroke.

Funeral services were held last (Thursday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Methodist church in Celina by Rev. Morgan, pastor of that church. Burial followed in the Cottage Hill cemetery.

The deceased is survived by her husband and three step-children: Bailey Gladden, of Dallas; Prof. John Gladden of Lockhart and Mrs. Cora Bowlin of Los Angeles, Calif. She is also survived by three sisters: Mrs. John Stallcup of Celina, Mrs. J. A. Biggs of Denton and Mrs. R. A. Blain of Celina.

One of her step-sons, Bailey Gladden, was formerly employed with the Universal Car company in thsi city.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of the S. K. Pafford Funeral home of Celina.

M'KINNEY SENDS LARGE GROUP TO LUCAS MEETING

About fifty members of the First Christian and East McKinney Christian churches of this city attended the Collin County Fellowship meeting of Christian churches held at Lucas Thursday.

"Pentecost" was the theme of the meeting, the principal speakers being Rev. Travis White, pastor of the Memorial Christian church, Dallas, and Rev. Granville Walker, pastor of the Allen and Frisco churches. Rev. White spoke on "Pentecost."

A splendid dinner was served by the ladies of the Lucas church. The program began at 10 a. m. and closed at 3 p. m.

Dr. Clifford S. Weaver, pastor of the First Christian church of this city, headed the large delegation of McKinney members attending.

DALLAS BOYS ENJOY BREAKFAST ON DYSART FARM

L. T. Dysart, accompanied by R. A. Foley, W. T. Bryant, Martin Crane, Mr. Moseley and twenty-five boys, between the ages of five and nine years, all of Dallas, passed through McKinney Thursday en route to the home of his parents near Melissa to spend the day. The boys are Cubs, an organization of young boys, who are just under the Boy Scout age. They are divided into groups, called "Packs" or "Dens," while the men directing them are called "Den" fathers. The gentlemen accompanying the cubs on this trip were their "Den" fathers.

These youngsters went up to the Dysart farm early Thursday morning to cook their breakfast out in the open pecan grove, after which they spent the remainder of the day swimming, hunting, etc. They received a most cordial welcome from Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dysart, who greatly enjoyed having the kiddies' visit and they spared no effort in their hospitality toward the boys and their grown men sponsors.

Mrs. M. F. Sims of Allen was called to Forreston on account of the serious illness of her uncle.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Payne, who reside near this city, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown at Allen.

Charles Ray Anderhub, son of Mr. and Mrs. Slates Anderhub of Wylie, was recently operated on for appendicitis.

J. N. Fagg, principal of the grade schools at Farmersville, and Wallace Herron, another Farmersville teacher, both received B. S. degrees at the recent graduating exercises of the North Texas State Teachers College, at Denton.

FARM PRODUCTS BRINGING MUCH BETTER PRICES

Farm commodities have greatly strengthened upward during the last ninety days.

Cotton in the last few days has sold as high as 9.25 per pound and ranges now from 7.50 to 9 cents per pound to the farmers who can also get 60 cents for wheat, 40 cents per bushel for their corn and 30 cents per bushel for their oats.

Onions are now being marketed and bringing around $1.00 per bushel with a fairly good yield per acre, ranging from 75 bushels to 200 bushels per acre.

With favorable weather continuing, there will be some grain threshed in the county within the next week or ten days.

Mrs. H. H. Neilson is visiting in Fort Worth.

G. C. McAlexander of the McKinney Dry Goods company, had business in Dallas Wednesday.

Ike Smith was here from Celina. Formerly lived here. Has many friends in McKinney.

ROOSEVELT MAKING GOOD, DESPITE ONE MISTAKE

I have come to be a strong believer in President Roosevelt. He has won me to be a hearty supporter of his, both personally and as a great president. My confidence in him and my faith in his policies grow stronger every day, and I sincerely wish him the most abounding success. I am convinced that the steps and policies which he is putting forth to improve our economic situation are characterized by a sincere patriotism and inspiring vigor and persistency, as well as a wise, farseeing devotion to the best interests of the country at large and especially of the common people and the more unfortunate classes.

As far as I possess the ability to understand and evaluate his policies and movements (and I have studied every one of them with the utmost possible care), I approve of and believe in them all with one exception. Our fine president, with a commendable caution, has repeatedly confessed that it is quite possible for him to make a mistake. His one great mistake, as I and millions of other voters see it, is his attitude on the liquor question. I am sure that we are not going to drink ourselves into prosperity. Oh, yes! The liquor traffic will give employment to some boozemakers and booze-vendors and raise some revenue for the government, but it has been proved that for every dollar the government collects in taxes from the liquor traffic, the drinkers, consisting principally of the poor people, will have to drink $10 worth of liquor and every dollar of it will be just so much money taken away from the legitimate trades and industries and from the real necessities of life for which the family calls, which is an awful price to pay for the impoverishment and debauchery of our American manhood, womanhood and childhood, which always accompanies the liquor traffic.

Though a dry Democrat, I am for Mr. Roosevelt and am going to support him and his legitimate policies loyally and enthusiastically, but with millions of other good, patriotic voters, I am going to march to the polls this year and do my best to undo his one great mistake by voting against the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

LIQUOR VS. MOVIES

Turning from the statements that more liquor is being drunk now than ever before, and that crime is more prevalent due to the prohibition laws, and that the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment will promote a more temperate drinking among the people, we come to the actual facts behnid the cry for repeal. It is to take the tax burden from the backs of of the ones who have control of the financial machinery of the Nation. Let not the common people be misled into thinking that their tax burden wil decrease with repeal. Nor will new business be derived, to any worthwhile extent through repeal.

One great industry of the land, the motion picture business, has just awakened to the fierce competition it is going to have if liquor returns. A leader in the movie business recently sent out a broadcast of warning to the motion picture producers and exhibitors everywhere in which he says:

"A large part of the money which will go to saloons for beer, and beer taxation, will come out of the movie business . . . You and I have got to fight the return of the saloon as we would a pestilence.

"The saloon will not create one single new dollar of money. It will simply mean that the dollar which has been spent on the movies and, on semi-luxuries and even on the necessities of life will be, in part, spent somewhere else. That part of it will be lost to you and me . . . You haven't any mora business than you need even now; and you will have less if the saloon comes back."

THAT LINCOLN STATESMAN ABOUT PROHIBITION

Further investigation confirms what I said recently, answering C. V. Mount, who sent you a purported wet statement from Abraham Lincoln, which is fraudulent. The full history of this slander of Lincoln appeared in the New York Times.

The statement ascribed in Lincoln was first printed in 1887 in Atlanta, Ga., during an exciting campaign to close the saloons. Handbills were headed in large letters, "For Liberty! Abraham Lincoln's Proclamation." Underneath was a picture of a negro kissing Lincoln's hand, which was striking off the negro's shackles.

In "Wet Slanders of Abraham Lincoln Reported," by Albert Porter, he says that a copy of the handbill was sent to Nicolay & Hays, Lincoln's bigraphers, and both declared they were unable to trace the quotation in any of Lincoln's letters, speeches or documents. Mr. Porter also stated that the president of the wet "Model League" admitted he could not tell where the original of the quotation could be found and that prominent liquor journals, on challenge, had failed to produce any verification of the alleged utterance.

Samuel Wilson in his "Abraham Lincoln, an Apostle of Temperance and Prohibition," also refers to the fabrication as a "malicious forgery." The Rev. William F. Crispin also refers to this statement attributed to Lincoln as a "spuriuos paragraph." He states that Lincoln on Feb. 22, 1842, in his address before the Washingtonian Society of Springfield, Ill., said he predicted a time when there would be neither a slave nor a drunkard in the land. The following is also taken from Lincoln's speech:

"Whether or not the world would be vastly benefited by a total banishment from it of all intoxicating drinks sems not now an open question. Three-fourths of mankind confess the affirmative with their tongues, and I believe all the rest acknowledge it in their hearts. Ought any, then, refuse their aid in doing what the good of the whole demands?"

William E. Barton, author of "The Life of Abraham Lincoln," says: "This (wet) quotation can not be found in any authentic writing of Lincoln. It is one of many spurious utteraces attributed to him."

John B. Goodwin, several times Mayor of Atlanta, was director of the wet forces in 1887 and there are affidavits extant that he has since stated that he (Colonel Goodwin) himself devised the circular and composed the alleged words of Lincoln, so as to secure the adhesion of the colored voters.

It thus appears that C. V. Mount has repeated this baseless story of Lincoln that has been often and widely exposed. Lincoln was assassinated sixty-eight years ago, and his memory should not now be assassinated by the slanders of wet propagandists.

PEOPLE OR PRESIDENT?

Do we see the liquor proposition as congress intended us to see it? There has been such a clamoring for prohibition to become a state question that some leniency should be extended our congressmen for supporting their constituents. Now that prohibition has reached the last analysis let us see what the majority will say. And, too, we must remember this plea was an old one when President Roosevelt was inaugurated.

MRS. L. A. SCOTT.

MRS. S. S. M'INTOSH IS RECOVERING FROM INJURY

Mrs. S. S. McIntosh, one of McKinney's most beloved elderly ladies, whose home is located at 202 South Benge street, has about recovered from a severe injury to her back sustained several weeks ago while working with the flowers on her porch. Mrs. McIntosh is the aunt of Mrs. Benge Quisenbury of this city, Mrs. Hugh F. McDonald of Austin and Garnett McKinney, she being a sister of the first wife of their father the late Joe D. McKinney, president of the Central State bank when he died a few years ago. Mrs. McIntosh is a sister of the late Tom Phelps, one of the county's most highly-esteemed farmers, who lived about five miles south of McKinney for many years. She has long been a widow. Her motherly instinct and sympathetic heart have prompted her to lifetime service to others and especially to helping care for and rear motherless children. She is a member of the First Methodist church and a devout Christian lady. These editors count it their good fortune to have known her intimately for many years.

THE SOUTHERN STATES PENSION CONFEDERATES

Sixty-eight years have passed since Appomattox and time has taken a heavy toll of Lee's and Jackson's men, but the South still spends more than $8,000,000 annually in pensions to Confederate veterans, their widows and, in some states, servants, says the National Tribune of Washington, D. C.

Figures from eight of ten states, from Virginia to Texas, show fewer than 7,000 who wore the gray uniform of the South on the pension rolls. Widows receiving the pay number almost 20,000.

Unlike the hosts of Grant, the Confederate veteran draws his small honor pay directly from the state. Union men are pensioned by the federal government. Historians have figured the youngest veteran of the Civil war states now is about 85 years. Five years, many historians believe, will find only a handful of the Confederate pensioners left.

Georgia provides the largest sum of any state for the care of her wards, which number 878 veterans and 2,957 widows. They are allotted approximately $1,600,000 annually. Alabama closely follows with 597 veterans and 3,338 widows who receive $1,120,820.

Arkansas has the smallest number of veterans of any of the states and the appropriation for their care is likewise the smallest, 1,110 veterans and widows receiving about $300,000 annually.

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Kerby of Corpus Christi have arrived in McKinney for a visit with relatives.

Prof. Elborn Gantt, superintendent of the Princeton public school, was a McKinney business visitor Saturday.

Misses Lessie Latham, C. S. McLeod, Wanda Berghauser and Mrs. W. S. Wysong, have returned from a week's motor trip to Chicago where they attended the Century of Progress exposition.

Jones Marcom and wife of Dallas visited the homes of their parents in McKinney over the week-end. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Marcom, while his wife is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Moore.

Edgar Sira Akin, one of the fine little nine months old twin baby sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Akin, has been very sick for several days, but its condition is probably somewhat improved today.

Miss Beatrice Burgess and Miss Isabelle Allen have returned from a few day's visit to Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Perkins at Hearne, Texas. Miss Carrie Talkington, sister of Mrs. Perkins, accompanied them to Hearne but is prolonging her visit for several more weeks and did not return home with them.

L. E. Dugger, wife and son, Jimmy, of Columbia, Tennessee, are guests in this city of Prof. F. M. Scott and family. Mr. Dugger preached Sunday and Sunday night at the Church of Christ in this city. They have many friends here where they resided two or three years ago, during which time he preached at the Church of Christ.

David Weatherly, who lives on Florence street, says that he never saw cotton and corn make any better progress in the same length of time than they did during last week. He says farmers made great use of the favorable weather for working in their crops and fields. Mr. Weatherly formerly lived on his farm in the Climax community before buying a home and moving to McKinney several years ago.

Marion O. Bozeman, owner of the Mockford Truck lines, has several acres of slip onions near McKinney. Unfortunately they were in the hail belt that visited our city a few weeks ago and suffered very material damage. Mr. Bozeman is one of our most popular and public spirited young McKinney business men. He is a son-in-law of ex-Senator and Mrs. H. A. Finch, his wife being their youngest daughter, Miss Betty before her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McCarty Dowell, Will J. Rhea, Maxwell F. Perkins and Moran Hill attended the Shrine ceremonial in Dallas. While the ceremonial was not as largely attended as usual, yet it was one of the best given in a long time. McKinney's nobles always get a nice reception at Hella Temple. The out-of-town ladies were entertained with dinner at the Adolphus and a theater party.

W. Hammond Moore and wife, Walter B. Wilson and wife and Mrs. Florence Warden all attended laymen's day services held at the Methodist church at Richardson at 8:00 o'clock Sunday night. Mr. Moore is lay leader for the McKinney district and was in charge of the services on that occasion for the pastor, Rev. G. E. Camster. M. J. Norrell, one of the city commissioners of the city of Dallas, was presented by Mr. Moore as the main speaker of the evening. He made a fine twenty minute address.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Simpson returned to McKinney Friday night, accompanied by Miss Mary Rollins, Mr. William Palmer, and her brother, Claude M. Simpson, Jr., all of Dallas. After her graduation at Southern Methodist university on Tuesday night, Miss Mary Elizabeth remained in Dallas to take part in her sorority rush party, the Gamma Phi Beta. In her university work she majored in physical education, and took the bachelor of science degree.

Mrs. J. H. Hill and daughter, Miss Mae Hill, the latter one of the efficient teachers of the McKinney Public schools, returned home Thursday from Marshall, where they attended the bedside of their son and brother, Prof. John Hugh Hill, who submitted to an appendicitis operation there a few weeks ago. He is recovering nicely and is able to be up some now. John, who is the son of the late Prof. J. H. Hill, for many years superintendent of McKinney Public schools, is a graduate of the McKinney High school and Austin college at Sherman. He is head of the history department of the College of Marshall.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernie O. Bales are the parents of a pair of pretty twin babies, a boy and a girl, about a month old. Mother and babes have all gotten along nicely. Their names are Billie Mack and Betty Louise. The young father works most of the time during the summer with J. P. Lane, the efficient sexton of Pecan Grove cemetery. Mr. Bales has had training as a florist and in nursery work with both the Coffman and Hedgecoxe local nurseries. LOCAL NEWS

Miss Elizabeth Taylor is able to be up following a ten day's illness of diphtheria.

Dr. W. L. Saye of Frisco was in the city, Saturday, and was one of the guests at the noonday Rotary luncheon served that day in the dining room of the educational building of the First Christian church.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Oglesby and Mrs. W. H. Sims had as their guests Sunday, Paul McKinney of Columbus, Ga. and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wilcox of Dallas. Mr. McKinney is a former resident of the city, being superintendent of the Texas Textile mill during his residence in this city.

Mrs. Jesse Bates of near Altoga was in the city Saturday. During the last few months she has suffered loss twice in raids on her poultry. In one of them, thieves stole thirty of her hens and the other was an old chicken eating sow that killed twenty-two more of her chickens.

Mrs. M. F. Wheeler has returned to Ardmore, Oklahoma, after a brief visit to her husband and home in McKinney. She is a guest for several weeks in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dickinson, at Ardmore.

Fire Chief J. S. McKinney of the McKinney Fire department, past president of the State Firemen's association, accompanied by John Moore and Arbie Sparlin, delegates from the fire department in McKinney, are in Corpus Christi to attend the State Firemen's meeting.

Boyd Morgan, one of the best farmers of the Culleoka section of the county was in town Saturday mingling with friends. He has fifteen or twenty colonies of bees, which he says are now doing well, and he expects soon to have some new honey for the McKinney market. Mr. Morgan is one of the best posted bee men of our county. He has had experience for many years in bee culture and honey production.

A total of 600 bushels of good onions, grown on four acres of land, was sold by City Commissioner Charles M. Bryan in McKinney this week at $1.00 per bushel. The onions were grown on his farm at Chambersville, about eight miles north of McKinney. The yield was around 150 bushels per acre and, at the prevailing price at the present time, these four acres of land yielded him a net profit of probably $115 to $120 per acre. McKinney is an excellent onion market. Hundreds of bushels of choice Collin county onions are being marketed here now every day.
